In the context of the relaunch of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty Organization, the Permanent Secretariat is pleased to make available to the Member Countries the seventh edition (revised, updated and summarized) of the Legal Basis of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty.

This updated edition compiles key documents and regulations of the bodies of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty Organization, until the year 2012. It aims to be a tool for consultation and guidance to governments, public and private institutions, researchers and the general public committed to the sustainable development of the Amazon Region.

The seventh edition brings the text of the Treaty, the Protocol of Amendment, Headquarters Agreement, statements of Presidents meetings, as well, records, statements and resolutions of the eleven meetings of Foreign Ministers held until 2012. It also presents the proceedings and resolutions of meetings of the Amazon Cooperation Council, from its twelfth meeting. Finally, it also contains the regulations of the instances of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty Organization.

It is important to point out that in 2013 will mark thirty-five years of the signing of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty, being a milestone therefore it is considered very important to count with an update of its legal basis.

The effort that that has been done to strengthen regional cooperation shows the commitment and willingness of Member Countries to enhance ACTO with “a new and modern role as a forum for cooperation, exchange knowledge and joint action to face the new and complex international challenges presented”, thus fulfilling the mandate given in November 2009 by the Heads of State.

The documents contained in this publication have been included in its original version. This publication was produced with the support of the Amazon Regional Program.

DECLARATIONS OF THE MEETINGS OF PRESIDENTS OF AMAZON COUNTRIES
MANAUS DECLARATION OF THE 1ST MEETING OF PRESIDENTS OF AMAZON COUNTRIES

The Heads of State of the Member Countries of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty, gathered in Manaus on May 6, 1989 with a view towards jointly rethinking their common interests in the Amazonian region and, particularly, on the future of the cooperation for the development and protection of the wealthy heritage in their corresponding Amazonian territories, adopt the following:

AMAZON DECLARATION

1. IN THE SPIRIT of friendship and understanding that drives our fraternal dialogue, we affirm the readiness to drive the political agreement effort started by our governments under the framework of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty, subscribed on July 3, 1978, and also within the framework of their bilateral relations, with a view towards promoting the cooperation among our countries in every area of common interest for the sustainable development of the Amazon region. To such ends, we undertake to foster compliance with all the decisions contained in the Declaration of San Francisco de Quito, adopted by our Ministers of Foreign Affairs on March 7, 1989.

2. AWARE of the significance of protecting the cultural, economic and ecological heritage of our Amazon regions, and of the need to drive such potential for the benefit of the economic and social development of our people, we insist that the Amazon heritage must be kept by the rational use of the resources in the region, so that present and future generations may benefit from this legacy of nature.

3. WE EXPRESS our support to the newly created Special Commissions on the Environment and on Indigenous Affairs, targeted at driving development, keeping natural resources, the environment, and the relevant Amazon populations, and we reaffirm full respect of the right of indigenous populations in Amazon territories to have all the measures taken, aimed at keeping and preserving the integrity of these human groups, their cultures, and their ecological “habitat”, exercising the right inherent in each State’s sovereignty.

WE REITERATE, likewise, our support to any actions purporting to strengthen the institutional structure of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty, pursuant to the approach advocated by the Declaration of San Francisco de Quito.

4. WE REAFFIRM the sovereign right of each country to freely manage its natural resources, taking into account the need to promote the economic and social development of its people, and the appropriate conservation of the environment. In the exercise of the sovereign responsibility of defining the best ways of leveraging and preserving such riches complementing our national efforts and the cooperation among our countries, we affirm our readiness to welcome the cooperation from countries in other regions of the world, as well as of international organizations that may contribute to the implementation of any national and regional projects and programs we might freely decide to adopt, not subject to any external pressures, in accordance with our governments’ priorities.

5. WE RECOGNIZE that the defense of our environment requires examining bilateral and regional measures in order to prevent pollution accidents and to react to their consequences.

6. WE HIGHLIGHT the fact that the protection and conservation of the environment in the region — one of the key goals in the Amazon Cooperation Treaty to which each of our countries is firmly dedicated — cannot be realized if we do not improve the desperate social and economic conditions afflicting our people, which are aggravated by an increasingly untoward international situation.
7. WE DENOUNCE the severe characteristics of the sovereign debt and the service thereof, making us net exporters of capital towards creditor countries, at the expense of sacrifices that are unbearable for our people. We insist that the debt cannot be paid given current conditions and circumstances, and that its handling should be based on the principle of shared responsibility, in such terms as enabling the reactivation of the economic growth and development process within our countries, a prerequisite to the protection, conservation, leveraging, and rational use of our natural heritage.

8. WE STRESS the need for the concerns expressed by highly developed countries relating to the conservation of the Amazon environment translates into cooperation measures at the financial and technological levels. We advocate for establishing new resource flows, in additional and concessional terms, for projects aimed at protecting the environment in our countries, including pure and applied scientific research, and we challenge the attempts at imposing conditions on the allocation of international funds for development. We hope we will witness the creation of conditions enabling free access to scientific knowledge and non-polluting technologies or technologies aimed at preserving the environment, and we reject any attempts made at obtaining any business profits by claiming lawful environmental concerns. This approach is mostly based on the fact that the main reasons for environmental decay at the world level are industrialization and consumption models, as well as waste in developed countries.

9. CONSCIENT of the global risks that the existence of nuclear weapons and other massive destruction weapons entails for life and environmental quality, and intent on preserving our region free from these dangers, we restate the commitments of our countries with the use of nuclear power solely to peaceful ends, and we urge countries in possession of nuclear weapons to immediately stop experimenting with them and to promote the phasing out of their arsenals. Likewise, we condemn the deposit of radioactive waste and other toxic waste endangering the ecosystems in the Amazon region. We represent the need to adopt adequate measures aimed at reducing the hazard of environmental pollution in the peaceful use of nuclear power. Also, we state our support to the ends and purposes of the Treaty for the Prohibition of Nuclear Weapons in Latin America.

10. CONVINCED about the need to strengthen the process of consultation and dialogue among our countries on every issue concerning the development of the region, even those provided for by the Amazon Cooperation Treaty, and certain of the fact that our cooperation strengthens the integration and solidarity in Latin America, we state our decision of joining efforts in a sound and pioneer joint venture, purporting to ensure a peaceful future of cooperation and prosperity for the countries in the Amazon region. Therefore, we have decided to meet on an annual basis.

DECLARATION OF THE 2ND MEETING OF PRESIDENTS OF AMAZON COUNTRIES

The Presidents of Amazon Countries, gathered in Manaus on February 10 and 11, 1992, with a view to examining the issues in the United Nations Conference on Environment and Development, adopt the following:

MANAUS DECLARATION ON THE UNITED NATIONS CONFERENCE ON ENVIRONMENT AND DEVELOPMENT

1. We are convinced that an environmentally healthy planet must be in line with a socially and economically fair world. In order to achieve this goal, changing non sustainable behaviors, development models and consumption patterns is paramount.

2. Within our countries, the imperative of economic and social development must be matched with the conservation and protection of the environment, through the promotion of strategies for the sustainable use of natural resources, and the respect of the right of citizens to a better quality of living. Thus, we affirm the right of our countries to use their own natural resources to ensure their wellbeing and progress.

3. We reaffirm the significance of education and public awareness, wherefore we undertake to completely support any efforts geared at increasing knowledge and public adherence to suitable environmental procedures. Additionally, we agree to strengthen environmental education and to urge the international community to support this action.

4. We reaffirm our conviction that the patterns of international production, consumption and distribution are at the roots of environmental problems in developing countries, especially the impairment of ecosystems and poverty to which most human beings have been pushed.

5. The greater responsibility of developed countries is admitted in the increasing environmental decay, a strong enough reason whereby no environmental controls or conditions may be imposed on developing countries.

6. In turn, underdevelopment is the main cause and a severe consequence of the environmental decay. Consequently, the solution to environmental problems is closely linked to a new attitude vis-à-vis international cooperation, which translates into the expansion of financial resources, a greater access to technologies, the boosting of business flows, and into measures aimed at solving the sovereign debt problem.

7. Emergency domestic measures shall be insufficient to combat poverty, unless supported by international cooperation, based on new principles.

8. Overcoming current environmental problems calls for a conscious and determined effort by the States and individuals that shall transcend the simple logics of market forces.

9. From the signing of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty, on July 3, 1978, our countries have undertaken a deep and wide commitment in terms of joining actions purporting to achieve the symmetric development of the region, the features of which are clearly conceived and defined in the Treaty. This unique engagement has allowed our countries to enjoy presently a wide range of policies and strategies through which it will possible to achieve sustainable development goals in the region.
10. We recognize the rights of indigenous populations and their contribution to the conservation of the environment. We think that a greater involvement on their part will be positive. In this sense, we are adopting meaningful measures, among which we should stress the efforts made to respect the rights of indigenous people on their lands, according to national laws. This is why consistent with the mandate arising from the I Meeting of the Ibero-American Summit held in Guadalajara, we have assessed the advances made, and we have reaffirmed our support to the creation of the Fund for the Development of Indigenous People of Latin America and the Caribbean.

11. We are determined to continue furthering all our efforts with a view towards the conservation of the largest native forest in the planet and its sustainable development, allocating to this task all resources available to us.

12. In this sense, we reaffirm the principles and purposes of the Manaus Declaration of May 6, 1989, wherein our countries established their common interests in the Amazon region, particularly on the future of the cooperation for the development and conservation of this heritage.

13. We also reaffirm that this effort will not suffice unless we can count on international cooperation to support the efforts made by our States in discharging their responsibilities and in the exercise of their sovereignty.

14. We stress again our readiness to strengthen bilateral and subregional cooperation in order to prevent environmental damage and tending to their consequences.

15. The United Nations Conference on Environment and Development shall be a historical landmark to start a new global relation that translates into financial and technological cooperation programs, which enable the strengthening by developing countries of their efforts at maintaining and fostering the sustainable development of their natural resources. Therefore, we commit our efforts to contributing to its success, together with all other countries in Latin America and the Caribbean, with which we adopted, in March, 1991, the Tlatelolco Platform on Environment and Development.

16. We agree upon a joint understanding on the main issues of the Conference. It is our belief that this agreement will meet the expectations of the international community. Such joint understanding is embodied in the following position paper which shall guide the delegations from our countries in the negotiations prior to the Conference.

JOINT POSITION DOCUMENT OF AMAZON COUNTRIES WITH A VIEW TO THE UNITED NATIONS CONFERENCE ON ENVIRONMENT AND DEVELOPMENT

I. CLIMATE CHANGES

1. Current trends in world climate change will result in deep implications for the environment and the development of our countries, even islands and low coastal areas. We urge developed countries — largely responsible for the cumulated concentration of greenhouse gases — to adopt specific measures in order to reverse said trends.

2. The negotiations of a framework convention on climate change are a unique opportunity for the international community to reach commitments aimed at reverting the trend towards the increase in greenhouse gases concentrations. Said commitments are necessarily distinct in developed countries and in developing countries, and should not affect economic and commercial interests of the latter. Developing countries can only be fully integrated into international efforts aimed at protecting the climate if the required financial and technological resources are guaranteed for the adoption of a new sustainable development model.

3. Each country should be able to reach the energy model that best fits its needs and global needs. Required adoptions result in the replacement of unsustainable lifestyles and consumption models regarding future generations.
II. BIODIVERSITY AND BIOTECHNOLOGY

1. Biological resources are unquestionably natural resources of each country, which therefore exercise its sovereignty on them. Immediate action is required to promote the conservation and sustainable use of biodiversity. These activities must be so conducted by countries with the support of the international cooperation, based on intergovernmental agreements.

2. Acknowledging the rights of the countries where biodiversity originates is paramount, especially including genetic resources; to that end, appropriate systems of records, regulations and control must be adopted and observed.

3. Cooperation is required among developed countries and those countries rich in biological resources, especially in terms of strengthening local institutions qualified for conducting research. National research efforts, information gathering and monitoring must be supported by the international community.

4. The sustainable use and development of such resources should be even more stressed than their conservation, in order to maximize and communicate their benefits.

5. The conservation of biodiversity must be comprehensive, prioritizing protected areas and those areas establishing economic and environmental zoning. To such ends, regional cooperation is significant, and one major example is the environmental and economic zoning program conceived and developed within the scope of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty.

6. Onsite and offsite research in source countries must be particularly supported and promoted. Also, international cooperation is required for the maintenance of gene banks.

7. Biodiversity and biotechnology are closely related, posing one of the clearest opportunities for sustainable development. Biotechnology highly depends on the conservation of genetic and biological resources, especially in developing countries, wealthy in biodiversity.

8. Traditional methods and knowledge of indigenous peoples and local communities need to be valued and protected. Their share in economic and commercial benefits arising from the usage of biodiversity is required in order to ensure their economic and social development.

9. We have a clear interest in the success of negotiations towards a Convention on Biological Diversity; this should mirror the required relation between access to biodiversity resources and access, particularly to biotechnology resulting there from, as well as the technology required for its conservation.

10. Access to biodiversity resources must necessarily include those resulting from biotechnology, as well as wild and cultivated resources. International cooperation is required for the endogenous development of biotechnology research in the countries where biological resources originate.

III. FORESTS

1. International discussions on forests should take into account the fact that these ecosystems are part of territories under the jurisdiction of the States, wherein the latter fully exercise their sovereignty. The States are charged with the passing of legislation over such spaces and their usage, in the light of national priorities.

2. Any global consideration on forest resources must necessarily include, without any discrimination, all types of forests.

3. Besides the purely environmental aspects, the relevance of the forest as an economic, cultural and social space must absolutely be acknowledged. Interaction among these elements creates an integral whole that is complex and wide. Forest policies are a major part in development strategies in our countries.
4. The economic dimension of the forest comprises the natural forest heritage, including mineral reserves, energy sources, tourist potential and human occupation opportunities for production activities. Social and cultural dimension consists in its “habitat” status as human populations, whether native or not, that depend on the forest for their livelihoods and cultural development.

5. National efforts aimed at developing models for the sustainable use of forests must be completely supported by the international community.

6. The promotion of an economic use of the standing forest should be stressed, given its environmental, social, positive economic effects, but in order to do that it is absolutely necessary to have a timely and sufficient access to the market of the various forest products.

7. Forest management must match the imperative of its economic valuation for the benefit of national societies — in such a way as to ensure proper levels of social welfare for the communities directly dependent on them — with the right environmental protection. In this sense, developing countries evidence specific needs that must be taken into account for the decisions made by the United Nations Conference on Environment and Development.

8. Economic activities in forest areas can be interfaced with the conservation and protection of natural and environmental resources. To such ends, countries should develop sustainable forest use strategies, and have access to markets for their products, that enable a sustainable development.

9. These strategies should aim at matching short-term actions with a longer-term perspective, echoing future opportunities. The concept of balance of costs and benefits should be extended, in order to include social equity, a greater technological efficiency of production processes, the conservation of natural resources, the respect for cultural values of local populations, and their knowledge of forest traditional uses.

IV. SOIL DEGRADATION

1. The relevance of the reversion of the increasingly deeper process of soil degradation, erosion, and desertification is stressed, as well as its prevention. Non sustainable processes for rural development, the use of inadequate technologies, as well as uncontrolled processes of land occupation have been severely impacting the environment, damaging the agricultural production in a way that threatens food security in developing countries.

2. Combating droughts and keeping watersheds via a comprehensive usage of land and water resources is key, as well as maintaining the forest cover.

3. It is essential to further promote land occupation according to its environmental layout and its development potential, both dynamically conditioned by scientific and technical advances. The importance of preventive and corrective actions should be stressed in areas having conservation as a goal. Nevertheless, it is essential to equally implement such measures in areas having a productive profile.

V. WATER RESOURCES

1. Environmentally suitable management of water resources is a key element in the conservation of ecosystems, health protection, and the promotion of wellbeing.

2. The close connection between an integrated management of water resources and the protection of marine and terrestrial ecosystems, biodiversity and a rational land use must be acknowledged. Thus, programs should be identified, for the sustainable development of water resources at the local, national, regional, and global levels, as well the means for implementing them.
3. In this sense, the measures taken at the national and regional levels specially stand out, aimed at managing, conserving, and providing a comprehensive management of watersheds. Such measures stand out as key for the right harnessing of water resources as a source of production activities such as irrigation, fishing, energy production and transportation; also for the control of polluting agents, the adoption of measures for the prevention and control of environmental hazards, and the protection of populations’ health.

4. The populations’ life quality is tightly linked to the supply of treated freshwater in such a quantity and quality that meets their needs. In connection with this, specific supply goals should be established for the next decade, within a set term framework.

5. Institutional capacity, society information and awareness, education and availability of financial resources are prerequisites for the comprehensive management of water resources. National efforts for the comprehensive management of watersheds should be acknowledged and supported by the cooperation of the international community.

VI. TOXIC AND HAZARDOUS WASTES

1. Toxic waste should be disposed of or removed at the production site. Countries shall have the right technologies for managing them in an environmentally safe way.

2. In order to address the problem correctly, the negotiation of a protocol to the Basel Convention should be completed as soon as possible to establish the appropriate procedures in terms of accountability and compensation for the damages resulting from the transboundary movement and handling of hazardous waste.

3. An assessment is equally required, in the light of the Basel Convention, of the existing rules, provisions, and practices concerning the dumping at sea of hazardous waste in order to recommend any additional measures within the framework of the Convention on the Prevention of Marine Pollution by Dumping of Wastes and Other Matter (London, 29/12/72).

4. Additionally, implementing the mechanisms provided for by resolution 44/226 adopted by the United Nations General Assembly, on illicit traffic of toxic products and wastes, is a must for the international community in order to monitor and report such traffic.

VII. STRENGTHENING OF INSTITUTIONS

1. A precondition to fostering sustainable development, the strengthening of institutions should be geared towards increasingly combining economic decisions with environmental protection strategies. Both the States and the international organizations must overcome the institutional dichotomy between these aspects. This should be one of the key innovation elements in the handling of environmental and development issues.

2. We state that strengthening national institutions is a priority to promote sustainable development. We equally stress the relevance of strengthening regional institutions. Intranational cooperation is an unquestionable basis for the conservation and rational harnessing of the natural heritage.

3. Globally, we must develop creative solutions for the United Nations to have more efficient and stronger mechanisms available for implementing the decisions of the United Nations Conference on Environment and Development. The planning and implementation of its actions must be conducted with full involvement of developing countries, so that they match their priorities. Accordingly, these institutions should be able to support, as per the specific needs of each country, the measures and programs implemented by the latter with a view to sustainable development.
VIII. HUMAN SETTLEMENTS

1. Problems affecting urban life quality also have a global dimension to the extent that their consequences exceed national frontiers. During the last twenty years, industrialized countries have, in a broad sense, achieved an apparent improvement in the conditions of their cities, by means of sound resources and new technologies. On the contrary, in developing countries, the issue is reaching critical levels that entail severe and unpredictable consequences. The United Nations Convention on Environment and Development should adopt a program of specific actions, within the scope of Agenda 21, in order to change the program in developing countries.

2. Agenda 21 programs relating to human settlements should include access to basic services such as health, household, drinking water, citizen safety, energy supply, transportation. In this context, both the urban periphery and rural settlements should equally be the target focus, as well as the supply of households for populations lacking revenue and the extremely poor ones.

3. Means should be developed that enable education, information and awareness of the society, as well as the professional training geared towards the adequate management of issues such as disadvantaged children, the disposal and handling of household and industrial waste, unemployment, violence, uncontrolled land occupation, and lack of basic health.

4. Implementing the required initiatives in developing countries calls for the contribution of additional resources sourced in international cooperation.

IX. INDIGENOUS AND LOCAL POPULATIONS AND COMMUNITIES

1. Within the context of life quality improvement of indigenous and local populations and communities, the value of traditional knowledge and its practices must be acknowledged for promoting sustainable development. To such intents, mechanisms should be developed for the protection of traditional knowledge and for compensating the appropriation and commercial use of this knowledge. Therefore, it is a must to ensure the conditions for self-development, support the development of own and sustainable means of alternative production, strengthen national institutional mechanisms aimed at fostering its development, and to protect and guarantee the “habitat” of such communities.

2. Likewise, ensuring the respect of indigenous populations and local communities’ rights is crucial for the preservation of their cultural identity. National efforts are essential for the promotion of sustainable development of those communities, supported by the mobilization of the international technical and financial cooperation, particularly within the context of the International Year of Indigenous People, which shall be celebrated in 1993.

X. FINANCIAL RESOURCES

1. Reaching the goal of integrating the environment with development requires a new attitude towards international cooperation. This new attitude is rooted on the understanding that developed and developing countries are co-partners in the same cause and that economic and environmental benefits resulting from this cooperation will be common.

2. Nevertheless, for the completion of this common goal, countries enjoy terribly unequal capacities and financial means. Consequently, developing countries have major limitations to engage in global efforts.

3. Industrialized countries come to play a historic responsibility in terms of the degradation of the environment at the global level, which is currently not sustainable. As a result of this and of the economic and financial capacity, they shall assume a proportionately larger responsibility in the sustainable development process.
4. Accordingly, new and additional flows of financial resources are required, that are supplied subject to the right conditions for developing countries, in order for the latter to comply with the duty to protect the environment and to promote development.

5. A solution should be found for the severe situation posed by the sovereign debt of developing countries, as it compromises their capacity to adopt the essential policies and measures required for implementing sustainable development strategies.

6. Likewise, protectionist barriers to international trade should be removed, whether they be the traditional barriers or environmentally sourced non-tariff barriers. On the other hand, natural resources and their products should have to be assessed and the relevant price be allocated pursuant to their value.

7. New financial resources should be channeled by means of the right institutional mechanisms that adequately provide for means of concessional disbursement, not subject to any conditions, that operate in accordance with the priorities from the beneficiary and a smooth handling of environmental and development issues. Besides, said resources must take into account the environmentally sound socio-economic development needs of developing countries populations.

8. Representation in these mechanisms and management thereof should follow the equity principle among developed and developing countries. For the above reasons, it should be understood that the financial mechanism called “Global Environmental Facility” is a clearly limited and insufficient instrument. The development of a mechanism is essential, that enables countries to implement the guidelines and action plans in Agenda 21, thus promoting sustainable development. Likewise, multilateral legal instruments under negotiation shall include their own financial mechanisms containing the features stated before.

XI. TECHNOLOGY TRANSFER

1. An efficient strengthening of new transfer mechanisms is required, that ensure environmentally adequate technologies for developing countries. Given financial and institutional constraints of developing countries, access to said technologies shall be conducted on preferential terms rather than on solely business terms, considering the responsibility of developed countries in environmental degradation and the common interest that drives the international community towards the protection of the environment; the transfer of new environmentally adequate technologies to developing countries is a prerequisite for honoring commitments on the environment and development that will be undertaken within the context of the United Nations Conference on Environment and Development, as well of the Convention being negotiated on the Protection of Biological Diversity and Climate Change.

2. Increasing national and regional capacities is important not only in order to absorb environmentally suitable technologies, but also for scientific research and for the development of own technologies. Developed countries must absolutely support such efforts bilaterally and multilaterally.

The Heads of State of the Member Countries of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty Organization, on occasion of the preparatory meeting for the United Nations Conference on Climate Change held in Manaus, Amazonas, on 26 November 2009:

Affirming their determination to drive and consolidate cooperation between the Member States of ACTO in areas of common interest, thus contributing to strengthen South American unity while ensuring full respect to national sovereignty;

Recognizing the prioritary need to foster the Amazon's sustainable development through integral, participatory, shared and equitable management as an autonomous and sovereign response to current environmental challenges, taking into account the effects of the international financial crisis;

DECIDE TO:

1. Endow ACTO with a new and modern role as a cooperation, exchange, knowledge and joint visibility forum to face the new and complex international challenges that lie ahead.

2. Commission the Chancelleries to prepare a new short, middle and long term Strategic Agenda for ACTO that includes regional actions to support the national initiatives with a view to strengthening the cooperation process. This Agenda will be examined and approved in the Tenth Meeting of Ministers of External Relations of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty to be held in the second quarter of 2010 in Peru.

3. Guided by the principles of reducing regional asymmetries, adopting complementary and solidary economic alternatives for the sustainable and rational use of Amazonian biodiversity and other resources, and improving the quality of life of the local populations, instruct the inclusion in the new Amazonian Strategic Cooperation Agenda of provisions inter alia to:

   • Build an integral regional Amazonian cooperation vision that incorporates economics, environment, health, indigenous and tribal peoples, education, science and technology, water resources, infrastructure, commercial navigation and facilitation thereof, tourism and communications, with a view to promoting the harmonious and sustainable development of their respective Amazonian spaces.

   • Identify actions to reduce and monitor deforestation, favor sustainable forest resources management and implement urgent measures to ensure biodiversity conservation and preservation, focusing on economic, rational and sustainable use, and including the search for mechanisms that support and create funding strategies to conserve and protect the forests.

   • Strengthen the institutional and political mechanisms of the indigenous and tribal peoples of ACTO to further a diagnosis of their situation by designing indicators, or others, with a view to identifying joint actions that enable them to develop in harmony with nature, while protecting and conserving their traditional extractive products.

   • Protect, manage and preserve the region’s water resources to ensure the health of the fluvial ecosystem.

   • Develop actions to promote food security and the eradication of hunger in the shortest delay possible.

   • Coordinate environmental health surveillance, execute coordinated actions in frontier areas, and adopt coordinated prevention mechanisms.
• Foster ecotourism.
• Decisively drive a regional science and technology agenda for the Amazon that includes traditional knowledge.
• Instruct the ACTO Permanent Secretariat to accompany international negotiations on central issues for Amazonian cooperation such as climate change, biological diversity and forests. Any actions taken as a result thereof shall be previously approved by the member countries.
• Incorporate sectoral ministerial meetings as part of the process of implementing the Strategic Agenda.

4. Reaffirm the urgency and importance of the Organization’s ongoing relaunching process by strengthening the Permanent Secretariat, and instruct their Ministers of External Relations to adopt measures that lead to concrete actions to ensure its institutional strengthening so as to enable compliance with the mandates conferred to it by its member countries, including a definitive solution for its permanent headquarters.

5. Instruct the Permanent Secretariat to conduct a study in coordination with the member countries to assess possible sources of funding from the countries themselves in order to overcome ACTO’s dependence on foreign financing to develop its strategic projects.

6. Reaffirm the importance of establishing or reactivating the Permanent National Commissions as the spheres in charge of executing the decisions made during the Meetings of Ministers of External Relations, pursuant to Article 23 of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty.

7. Express their firm support to the new administration of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty Organization Permanent Secretariat.

DECLARATION OF BELEM

The Ministers of Foreign Affairs of Bolivia, Brazil, Colombia, Ecuador, Guyana, Peru, Suriname and Venezuela,

GATHERED in Belem, on October 23 and 24, 1980, in order to celebrate the First Meeting of Ministers of Foreign Affairs of Signatories to the Amazon Cooperation Treaty, according to their article XX, second paragraph;

EAGER to witness the speedy implementation of the Amazon cooperation mechanism provided for by the Treaty,

INTENT on promoting and facilitating at the domestic level and through Amazon cooperation the economic and social development of their national Amazonian territories, in order to ensure its effective integration into their corresponding economies,

PERSUADED that, vis-à-vis the specific goals in the geographic area of application, the Amazon Cooperation Treaty contributes a new dimension to the Latin American cooperation process and reaffirms the irreplaceable cooperation need among developing countries,

CONSCIOUS that the development of Amazonia and the preservation of its environment are inseparably entwined and the exclusive responsibility of Amazon countries, with no further limitations than those set forth in article IV of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty, with which all other forms of international cooperation must be harmonized,

DECLARE:

I. The goal of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty is the creation, by way of the joint efforts of Bolivia, Brazil, Colombia, Ecuador, Guyana, Peru, Suriname and Venezuela, and through the standing clearinghouse provided for by the Treaty, methods of cooperation and information sharing, with a view to celebrating the socio-economic development of the corresponding Amazon territories, preserving their natural resources and strengthening the actions provided for in the relevant national plans.

II. Cooperation shall focus on increasing the standard of living of the signatories to the Treaty and shall make the interests and needs of their Amazon populations a priority, with the goal of achieving their full integration into national development processes, attending to the preservation of their cultural and social values.

III. Indigenous people are the part and parcel in Amazonia, and the source of knowledge and habits on which the local culture and economy are based; thus, they deserve a special attention in current and future planning of the Amazon region in each country.

IV. The use and harnessing of natural resources in each national Amazon territory are a sovereign and exclusive right of each signatory to the Amazon Cooperation Treaty, subject to no further limitations than those provided for in its article IV. The Amazon cooperation process aims at repeating the full use of those rights, heritage and guarantee of development of the Amazon countries’ territories.

V. The development of the economic potential of Amazon territories of each country and the preservation of their environment are the comprehensive goals promoted and strengthened in an indivisible manner. Each country shall consolidate these goals by means of a plan driven by the characteristics of such territories, with a selection criterion of favorable areas for economic utilization, as has been the case through positive experiences in various areas in the region.
VI. To this end, Amazon countries driven by their direct and legitimate interest in efficiently protecting the extraordinary wealth and the variety of flora and fauna in the region will attempt at promoting — as they have been doing — the creation of national parks and other conservation units, in accordance with scientific studies on integral ecosystems. Accordingly, once completed an appropriate term for the assessment and consideration, Guyana and Suriname are expected to evaluate their potential accession to the Technical Intergovernmental Committee on the Protection and Defense of Amazon Flora and Fauna, created in 1975, made up so far by Bolivia, Brazil, Colombia, Ecuador, Peru and Venezuela.

VII. The efforts made by each signatory country shall be strongly supported with a view towards eliminating illegal traffic of live specimens and wild animals furs, the species of which are endangered, and towards making industrialized countries where the major consumer markets of said animals and furs are concentrated effectively engage in these efforts.

VIII. Simultaneously with the flora and fauna conservation, promoting the rational use of tropical forests is advisable, as a key driver in regional dynamics. To this end, cooperation by Amazon countries will be fostered in order to carry out joint research activities, information sharing, training of technicians, etc. The use and harnessing of all natural resources in Amazonia is the sovereign and exclusive right of each State therein; thus, any initiative purporting to raise concerns on the sovereignty of the States located in tropical areas is unacceptable, in terms of the use and preservation of their forest resources.

IX. One of the broadest priorities in the Treaty shall be allocated to the cooperation in the field of research, especially to the development of science and technology appropriate for tropical conditions. Information sharing will be particularly promoted with equivalent areas in Africa and Asia. The fact that this area appears to be ideal for developing nations to test their capacity to put an end to their cultural and technological dependence in terms of industrialized centers will be highlighted, establishing the criteria and standards to be followed in the course of research activities, according to their own values and needs. Scientific research will supply a safe criterion to gear policies for economic and social development and for the preservation of the environment, at the same time submitting these activities to an ongoing assessment targeted at the review and refinement of methods and techniques. To such ends and purposes, member-States will charge the Amazon Cooperation Council with the drafting and coordination of a broad joint research program on science and technology, to be distributed among the leading scientific research institutes in Amazon countries, according to the sectors defined by the Special Commissions created by this meeting.

X. The Amazon Cooperation Council will be charged with the preparation of a cooperation program on the development of national Amazon territories and with enabling the communication among Signatories of the experiences and national methods in the areas of project planning, financing and execution. The Amazon Cooperation Council is equally charged with examining the creation of a Preinvestment Fund aimed at financing the preparation of common interest projects. The Council will also be charged with examining the suggestions that, on this issue, are submitted by the governments. To that end, the cooperation of international agencies such as the IDB, the World Bank, UNDP and the SELA, among others, will be searched for.

XI. In the future just like in the past, the Amazon River system may play, in a more effective manner, a role similar to that of rivers and channels networks in other continents, as the linking factor among Amazon countries. For that, the Amazon Cooperation Council shall undertake a systematic and comprehensive study of the potential of those rivers, of their intrinsic interaction with other components in the Amazon geographic complex, of the need to have port facilities, of the demarcation and correction of river courses. That study will take into account not only physical conditions of seaworthiness, but also the aspects of economic feasibility, such as current and future traffic needs, projections on the generation of bulk loads compatible with the peculiarities of river transportation, and the possibility of harnessing the river in any other way. This study shall specially focus on the development of the existing means and the solution of problems and hindrances to river connections in certain areas with the Atlantic.
XII. The Amazon Region owns enough natural resources, both renewable and non-renewable, that can be used for its harmonious development. Its various rivers, besides providing natural transportation means, communication and contact among countries in the region, are also a source of energy. To this effect and in accordance with article V in the Treaty, Signatories recommend the Amazon Cooperation Treaty undertaking studies relating to water resources in the Amazon Region.

XIII. The Amazon Cooperation Council shall promote the coordination of national plans for implementing an appropriate physical structure of transportation and telecommunications enabling the interconnection of Amazon countries and their capitals, in terms of article X in the Treaty. This planning, to be conducted in a consultative manner by the governmental technical sectors from the parties, shall take into account the huge Amazon distances, the possibility of having new technologies in the field of river, land and air transportation, as well as the experiences of some countries in providing the area with an efficient network of transport and telecommunications.

XIV. In order to promote a better knowledge and raising awareness on the need for cooperation among Amazon countries’ populations, the Amazon Cooperation Council will prepare proposals aimed at stimulating the exchange in the area of tourism, among them according to article XIII.

XV. A clear understanding of the reality of each Amazon territory and of their differences and characteristics in terms of the rational use of their natural resources for agricultural, industrial, livestock and hydro electrical applications will be facilitated to the extent that Amazon countries reach scientific and technological levels that reinforce their solvency and autonomy. With this goal, and in order to better perceive the Amazon reality, universities in member-states will be encouraged to establish centers or subjects on Amazon studies, as is already the case in some of them, and to promote the strengthening of contacts among said study centers, teachers, researchers, artists, exchange of interns and spreading of publications on Amazon issues.

XVI. Given the size of the Amazon challenge and of the means available for the countries in the region, it is understood that the programs to be outlined insert themselves into a vast horizon, in a true agenda for the present and the future, starting from proposals that will be positive as long as they are realistic and enforceable.

XVII. Persuaded that the ideas and principles collected in this Declaration may be a source of inspiration and guidance for the Amazon cooperation process that is coordinately starting, the Ministers of Foreign Affairs gathered in Belem reaffirm their faith and trust in the fate of Amazonia as basis for the construction of wealthy and developed societies and as rapprochement factor, not only between the countries in the area but also at the service of the unit and the integration of Latin America.

Made in the city of Belem, on October twenty four of the year nineteen-eighty, in Spanish, Dutch, English and Portuguese.

COMMISSIONS REPORT

REPORT BY THE FIRST COMMISSION ON INSTITUTIONAL AND FINANCIAL AFFAIRS

On December 7 and 8 the First Commission on Institutional and Financial Affairs gathered at Cali.

Ambassador Rubens Ricupero, Head of the Department of the Americas from the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Brazil was elected Chair of the Group, and Ambassador José Carlos Mariátegui A., Undersecretary of Economic Affairs and Integration of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Peru was elected Rapporteur.

The delegations submitted their points of view in connection with the issues within their scope, and they convened in stating their unwavering determination of strengthening the work provided for by the Amazon Cooperation Treaty, as well as their common interest in completing specific projects. Consensus was obtained regarding how convenient it would be to refine the mechanisms in the Treaty, with a view to being more efficient in the implementation of joint actions. As a result of the discussions, the conclusions below were reached by consensus:

AT THE INSTITUTIONAL LEVEL

To build upon the assessment by the relevant Ministries of Foreign Affairs and competent national organizations of the most suitable institutional mechanisms; to such intents and purposes, they recommend examining the proposals submitted by Colombia, Suriname, Bolivia and Peru, which are annexed to this report. These mechanisms should be flexible, pragmatic and should have no bureaucratic implications.

In line with the suggestion submitted by the Delegation of Colombia, it was deemed convenient to strengthen the Pro Tempore Secretariat by means of an Ad Hoc operational mechanism, made up by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs to which said Secretariat reports, and the diplomatic representation accredited in that country or the representatives appointed by the Ministries of Foreign Affairs, via joint and frequent meetings, convened sufficiently in advance;

Issuing directions to the Pro Tempore Secretariat regarding the carrying out of certain tasks and, particularly, regarding the promotion of a wide range of information sharing. Requesting that the Pro Tempore Secretariat, the headquarters of which shall be with the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Bolivia, collects from member countries information on bilateral and multilateral cooperation plans and programs existing and projected with a view towards the preparation of a single document for distribution and analysis. The Pro Tempore Secretariat shall equally obtain the reports on the preinvestment mechanisms and national resources available on the part of the countries, in order to contribute to the funding of the projects prefeasibility studies;

Highlight how convenient it is for the country hosting the Pro Tempore Secretariat to appoint an officer charged with the coordination of its activities;

That sector meetings and seminars take place, to the extent possible, before the next Amazon Cooperation Council meeting in Bolivia and that, immediately after those meetings, the reports arising from them be submitted to the Pro Tempore Secretariat and, from that way up to member countries, for their submission at the following Council meeting. After identifying specific projects at Sector Meetings, the creation of the relevant Special Commissions could be examined.

AT THE FINANCIAL LEVEL

Even though the current cycle was not considered to be the most suitable, all delegations convened that it is convenient to further the consideration of establishing a Preinvestment Fund.
It was agreed to draw up the recommendations below:

– That the countries submit to the Pro Tempore Secretariat their reports on the preinvestment mechanisms and financial resources they have available, so that the Secretariat collects them in a single document and spreads it to member countries as soon as applicable;

– That coordination policies of existing preinvestment mechanisms be adopted, with a view to using them to contribute to the funding of specific projects and the use both of own resources and resources from international financial agencies.

– The delegations agreed that the financial aspects in Amazon cooperation should be considered within the context of the economic crisis currently affecting the countries in the region. In this sense, they expressed their unwavering support to the organization, as per the invitation made by the President of Ecuador, Mr. Oswaldo Hurtado Larrea, of the Latin American Economic Conference that will take place in Quito, next January, in order to coordinate the grounds for a common response to the severe economic problems afflicting the region.

– Imposed of the initiatives by the countries for realizing even further the basic goals in the Amazon Cooperation Treaty, and specially of the institutional and operational proposals contained in the opening remarks made by the President of the Republic of Colombia, Mr. Belisario Betancur, the First Commission unanimously recommends the creation of a Special Ad Hoc Commission to study the same and to propose to the next Amazon Cooperation Council meeting, to be held in Bolivia, the adoption of the relevant decisions on the far-reaching and urgent issues raised.

This Commission shall convene on the date and place decided by the Pro Tempore Secretariat, at the earliest convenience of the Ministries of Foreign Affairs of the signatories to the Treaty.

REPORT BY THE SECOND COMMISSION ON REGIONAL DEVELOPMENT

1. The Regional Development Commission met on December 7 and 8, 1983, pursuant to the Agenda adopted at the First Plenary Session.

2. Captain E.M. Raúl Crosby De La Torre, delegate from Ecuador, was appointed Chairman of the Commission and Mr. Raúl Chávez Murga, from the delegation of Peru, was appointed Rapporteur.

3. Participating delegates from each country made exhaustive presentations on the various topics of interest and submitted proposals for specific projects in areas of possible cooperation, the same as are detailed in documents annexed to these presents.

4. During the Commission’s work sessions, the following offerings were concluded in connection with meetings aimed at dealing with specific issues such as seminars and other common interest subjects:

a. The delegation from Brazil offered to conduct a seminar on land transportation that will include information on construction, maintenance and operation processes for roads suited to the Amazon region, with presentations on planning experiences and methodologies. The venue would be the city of Porto Velho or Manaus and it would take place during the second half of 1984.

b. This country also offered to put up a seminar on water transport relating to any port infrastructure, shipbuilding and related topics.

c. This delegation also offered to conduct seminars on regional development policy, agriculture, meteorology, climatology and hydrology, on a date that will be agreed upon in due time.

d. Additionally, Brazil offered to conduct courses relating to bank systems and tax incentives policies.

e. The delegation of Colombia offered to conduct a scientific expedition as part of a multilateral research program, proposing the methodological model applied in the Second Botanical Expedition of the Government of Colombia.
f. The Ecuadorian delegation confirmed the offer it had made at the Lima meeting to conduct a seminar on transport and communications, during the first half of 1985.

5. As regards the proposals that were the subject of presentations, there was consensus in how they were conceived at large, and interest was shown in terms of its analysis and assessment, in order to project its possible execution, once interests and priorities from the various countries are harmonized, both individually and as a whole. To such ends, the documents embodying the projects submitted by each delegation are made a part of this report as annexes, with the recommendation by this Commission that the governments of the countries parties to the Treaty examine and determine their feasibility and convenience.

6. The Commission carried unanimously the initiatives for the organization of seminars, meetings, expeditions and other additional events contributing to realize cooperation actions, the execution of which shall be subject to future coordination by the Pro Tempore Secretariat, via the Embassies and National Commissions.

7. The delegations from Member States unanimously stated that it is necessary to streamline all actions purporting to make the Amazon Cooperation feasible.

8. On behalf of the visiting delegations, the Chairman of the Commission thanked the Pro Tempore Secretariat for all facilities granted for the organization of this event in general and for the Commission’s work in particular, highlighting the uncountable examples of traditional Colombian hospitality extended to each and every participating delegate.

REPORT BY THE THIRD COMMISSION ON SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

The Commission on Science and Technology gathered on December 7 and 8, 1983; the Board comprised as Chairman Mr. Luiz Braconnot from the Brazilian delegation and Ms. Antonieta Divo De Morales, from the Venezuelan delegation, as Rapporteur.

Firstly, all delegations prepared a draft of the national projects and proposals of their relevant countries. Later, it was decided that specific projects deserved a thorough examination within the mechanisms set up by the Amazon Cooperation Treaty, as the Technical Sector Meetings, where it would be attempted at identifying the areas of common interest in order to prepare the specific programs and their implementation. These Technical Sector Meetings could be tracked via seminars and symposium on the various subjects.

In this sense, the delegation from Brazil offered to conduct a Technical Sector Meeting for Science and Technology, to be put up at Manaus, at a date to be decided after consultation with member states in coordination with the Pro Tempore Secretariat. Likewise, it expressed its interest in organizing a Seminar on Hydrology and Climatology in Amazonia, to tentatively take place in June in the city of Belém do Pará. It also offered to conduct seminars on health and farming on a date to be later set.

The delegations expressed their interest in information sharing in the areas of science and technology, pointing out the convenience of preparing a list of national organizations and institutions working in the field of science and technology, of the projects being carried out now and in the future, and of existing documents, in order to avoid duplicate efforts and a better understanding of the work done in each country. The need of methodology sharing was also stressed in the development of research projects, and health was singled out as a specific common interest area and the need of controlling communicable diseases, like yellow fever, malaria, dengue and onchocerciasis.

The delegation of Colombia submitted a proposal for the creation of a Documents and Information Technology Center for the Amazon Region. It also submitted projects for conducting an Amazon scientific expedition and an Atlas of Amazonia.

The first expedition shall be prepared in Colombia.
The delegations convened that actions are required that enable information sharing in the field of science and technology, reason for which they requested the Colombian delegation to submit proposals on occasion of the Technical Sector Meeting and of the Ad Hoc Special Commission for study, in order to put them to consideration of the following Amazon Cooperation Council meeting.

On the course of the meeting, the delegations stressed the need to use the existing research National Centers and the convenience of having an effective coordination in order to further the Amazon science and technology programming identified as an interesting subject for member states. In its capacity as the next Pro Tempore Secretariat, the delegation of Bolivia requested that all other delegations deliver on time all the required documents to better fulfill its mission.

SECRETARIAT RECORD

The undersigned Secretary General of the II Meeting of Ministers of Foreign Affairs to the Amazon Cooperation Treaty makes it known that the reports gathered by the Chairmen of the Commissions appearing in this annex were carried unanimously at the Second Plenary Session of December eight, nineteen eighty-three.

Ambassador Alberto Martínez Barbosa
Secretary General
DECLARATION OF SANTIAGO DE CALI

The Ministers of Foreign Affairs, Ministers and Representatives from Colombia, Ecuador, Guyana, Peru, Suriname, Venezuela, Bolivia and Brazil gathered in Santiago de Cali, Colombia, on December 7 and 8, 1983, on occasion of the II Meeting of the Ministers of Foreign Affairs of the Member States of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty, convened in accordance with article XX of said international document and article III in its rules,

INSPIRED by the lofty ideals of unity and fraternity for Latin American peoples, the perennial expression of which are the political ideas of the Great Liberator Simón Bolívar, in the year in which we rend homage to the bicentennial of his birth;

DRIVEN by the willingness to achieve an understanding and friendly cooperation by the people in our region, basis on which the future of the continent shall be built;

PERSUADED that the need for cooperation and development of Amazon populations is a significant goal in national policies of their countries within the regional framework;

AWARE of the fact that Amazonia represents one of the areas where the interests from its countries converge and that the Amazonian challenge is a key driver to bringing them closer;

EAGER to further the task of meeting the challenge posed by understanding the Amazon area, as the first goal to undertake harmonious development and regional cooperation actions, and eager to improve the ongoing cooperation process inspired and guided by the Amazon Cooperation Treaty; and

DETERMINED to identify and determine joint actions that may contribute to drive — based on realistic and specific grounds — the development and welfare of the Amazon region, by boosting scientific and technological research, and the development of harmonious programs in the area of health, transportation and communications, agriculture and livestock, meteorology and the training of human resources expert in Amazon affairs, among other areas of common interest;

DECLARE:

1. That national activities, plans and projects undertaken by member countries, as well as the wide array of initiatives already observed in the field of bilateral cooperation among Amazon countries, are facts that show mobilization capacity in terms of common problems in the Amazon area, and provide a sound basis for furthering and strengthening regional cooperation;

2. That just as the first Amazon Cooperation Council Meeting, from July, 1983, the Technical Sector Meeting, of September, 1981, held in Lima, Peru, were landmarks in the process aimed at identifying areas of common interest, prioritization and development of action lines, initiatives and specific projects relating to regional cooperation;

3. That such contributions enable new steps towards joint actions that incorporate into the Amazon reality the purposes of the Treaty, and reinforce the flexibility and practical dimension in its mechanisms;

4. That, given the goal above, the highest priorities are building upon the contact established among national competent organizations and regional development agencies of research, from the point of view of information and experience sharing, promoting the utilization — at the regional level — of those experiences and national programs, stimulating and offering the adequate conditions for the emergence of joint and complementary efforts in the area of scientific and technical research;

DECIDE TO:

RATIFY their decision to foster the tasks agreed upon in documents signed within the Treaty Framework, such as the Declaration of Belem, containing the main guidelines for making them feasible.

DETERMINE that contact is eased between institutions and national bodies dealing with issues of Amazon interest, to promote seminars for information and experience sharing and to benefit from the opportunities arising in member states for encouraging professional and technical training courses in Amazon affairs and the offers to provide technical advice and cooperation individually made by countries.

WELCOME the suggestion that the Ministers of Foreign Affairs charged with the Pro Tempore Secretariat maintain close links with the accredited missions of all other countries together with their government, to the extent that such links are possible and take place in capitals where all member states have diplomatic authorities.

Previously convened, these contacts should promote information sharing and coordination required to increase the determinations made by meetings of ministers and the relevant action plans conceived in Amazon Cooperation Council Meetings.

DETERMINE that, prior to the next Amazon Cooperation Council Meeting and via close contacts with the Pro Tempore Secretariat, currently under the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Bolivia, the technical meetings take place, associated to each priority area in the Treaty.

RECOMMEND that, at the technical level, the possibility is assessed to identify — with the right coordination between the parties — national or international sources of financing and to study how funding operations can be brokered for regionally beneficial bilateral or multilateral projects.

DETERMINE that, in the year 1984, a Meeting of Amazon Regional Development Bodies be organized, in order to share information and knowledge, establish contacts at the institutional and personal levels among bodies, and plan future actions either jointly or complementarily.

WELCOME the offers made to put up a seminar on transportation and communications in the year 1984, a seminar in the area of roads projects, building and maintenance in Amazonia, and a seminar on shipbuilding applied to water transportation, with the purpose of both sharing information and experiences in those areas of utmost relevance for the development of a transportation and communications system compatible with the needs prevalent in the Amazon region.

THANK international organizations that have offered their support and the governments that have already undertaken planning efforts for the project of joining the basins of the rivers Orinoco, Amazonas and La Plata, referring in particular to the President of the Republic of Peru, Fernando Belaunde Terry, the main engine behind this remarkable continental integration project.

DETERMINE that actions be coordinated and the possibility be assessed to having financial, technical and labor support from international organizations and institutions, in order to further plan the project for joining the South American basins, at the pace enabled by the development needs of their peoples and available resources.

SUGGEST that the enforcement of bilateral agreements on the control of animal diseases, valid among some Amazon countries, be extended to other countries, with a view towards taking the fight against such diseases to the regional level.
DETERMINE the execution of studies and information sharing on communicable diseases, especially on yellow fever and dengue in the Amazon region, particularly in connection with the threat posed by the spreading of those diseases into urban areas, in order to establish specific joint action plans and to promote the financial, technical and staff support of the Pan American Health Organization and the World Health Organization.

DETERMINE the study, in a technical seminar to be held during the first half of 1984, of the creation of a collection and communication network for hydro meteorological data to benefit from structures and experiences already existing or under development in member states.

CONSIDER the adoption of an action plan in the area of science and technology applied to the humid Tropics, enabling the flexible enough execution of specific, joint or supplementary actions to speed up the awareness in the region and to find the right solutions to Amazonian problems.

ENTER INTO THE DECLARATION BELOW

ADOPTION OF ADDITIONAL ACTIONS, CONVENIENT IN THE AMAZONIAN AREA

The Countries Parties to the ACT reinforce their commitment to make additional efforts to render Amazonian regional cooperation more efficient and capable of attaining better practical and more outreaching results.

To such ends, the Countries undertake to speed up the establishment of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty Organization, with its Permanent Secretariat, which shall ease the ACT’s internal and external coordination activities.

INSTITUTIONAL AFFAIRS OF THE ACT

The future of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty and the right management of the region depend on the determined political will and the unreserved support of the Contracting Parties in the strengthening of the Treaty and the instances provided for in its framework. The need to promote horizontal cooperation among countries stands out in this complex process, in order to favor institutional exchanges, as well as a greater interaction of the Treaty with other regional and international organizations.

The creation of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty Organization, endowed with a Permanent Secretariat – pursuant to the decision of the corresponding Governments – will positively impact the aspiration to ease the proceedings within the framework of the Treaty and to improve implementation of decisions.

STRATEGIC ROLE OF ACT

The Amazon Cooperation Treaty is a determinant both as a strategic instrument at the service of their countries, and as a platform for the defense of common interests. This resource should be used rationally and more frequently as a forum for consultation and consensual articulation of regional positions.

ENVIRONMENT

Countries Parties reassert the postulates in the Declaration of the II Meeting of Presidents to the ACT, Manaus, February, 1992, in terms of combining the imperatives of economic and social development with the conservation and protection of the environment, targeted at the eradication of poverty from an innovated international cooperation standpoint and in line with recent developments in the world scene.

A true sustainable development should be promoted in Amazonia, based on the right use of biodiversity, enabling, in turn, the conservation thereof. Given that biodiversity and biotechnology offer wide opportunities for sustainable development, Amazon countries must coordinate positions in specialized fora to ensure intellectual property and the protection of traditional knowledge on biogenetic resources.

Within this context, the Countries Parties of the Treaty consider it timely to promote the signature and ratification of the Cartagena Protocol on Biosafety, on occasion of the V Meeting of the Conference of the Parties to the Convention on Biological Diversity, which shall be held in Nairobi, from May 15 to 26, 2000, with a view to control the transboundary movements of living modified organisms that impair human safety and that of the environment.

Foreign Affairs Ministers have taken note, with interest, of the efforts made so far by the environmental authorities from countries parties to the Amazon Cooperation Treaty, through various dialogue processes, in their meetings in La Guaira, Cochabamba, and Quito, targeted at finding joint positions on environmental issues on the international agenda, such as the Clean Development Mechanism (CDM) provided for in the Kyoto Protocol of the Framework Convention on Climate Change, and at working in a comprehensive manner to establish synergies between the Convention on Biological Diversity and the Convention on Climate Change and other international conventions on the environment and renewable natural resources.

FORESTS

Countries Parties are truly aware of the fact that forests entail a value beyond the strictly commercial and they reassert their relevance as a key element to attain sustainable development. Also, they consider that the environmental, social and cultural services they provide should be taken into account when devising policies and programs that promote the sustainable management of forests.

They restate that forest policies are a relevant dimension in the development strategies of each country, and that they should focus on harmonizing the various roles played by forests and, within it, highlight the role played by indigenous communities of Amazonia via the conservation of their natural environment: Amazonian forests.

Countries Parties state their aspirations to see the Tarapoto Process completed, which was started in 1995, for the adoption of sustainability criteria and indicators of Amazonian forest, by means of the completion of all national consultations and the organization of the II Regional Meeting, for the adoption of such criteria and indicators.

Countries Parties are satisfied with the results of the negotiations held during the Intergovernmental Forum on Forests attained last February and they reaffirm the importance they attribute to the right composition of the United Nations Forum on Forests, as well as to the full implementation of the recommendations and proposals for action agreed upon, especially the establishment of mechanisms for the provision of funding and technology that promote the sustainable management of forests.

Regional Fight against Illegal Activities in Amazonia

Countries Parties insist on their concern about the illegal activities conducted in the Amazon region, affecting the security and development of the States in the Region. Therefore, they express their support of currently implemented actions purporting to combat these illegal activities and they make their decision clear to foster, within the framework of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty, the initiatives aimed at solving the problems of, without limiting to, illegal crops, drug trafficking, indiscriminate logging, biopiracy and illegal mining.

TRANSPORTATION, INFRASTRUCTURE AND COMMUNICATIONS

Countries Parties accept that building on actions is urgent to bring to fruition one of the major aspirations in the Treaty – one that remains to be achieved – as the establishment of an intermodal transport structure across Amazonia. The objective of developing a physical, energy, and communications infrastructure is still a core challenge throughout Amazonia, as well as in the wider context of South America. In this sense, the Ministers of Foreign Affairs are satisfied with the inclusion of this issue in the call made by the Government of Brazil for the I Meeting of Presidents of South America, for the second half of 2000.

SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

Countries Parties should allocate, in their national plans, a leading role to the development of science and technology, in order to establish scientific and technological basis tending to the needs of Amazonia, prioritizing scientific research and access to leading technologies. Scientific and technological research organizations, universities, and other higher education institutions are called to undertake a relevant role in all areas of scientific, technological, and humanistic knowledge that is relevant for Amazonia.

ENVIRONMENTAL EDUCATION

Countries Parties are satisfied with the commencement of the Works of the Special Commission on Education of Amazonia (CEEDA) held in Quito, in October, 1997, with which the inclusion of the environmental dimension will be fostered into the educational programs, particularly in primary education. This initiative enlarges the possibilities of supplying the citizens of our countries — for life and from childhood — of a mindset and an attitude of defense and protection of their natural environment.

INDIGENOUS AFFAIRS

They ratify the importance granted to the preservation of cultural identity of indigenous and local communities within the framework of their respective national legislations. In that sense, the Governments undertake to strengthen national institutional mechanisms for the promotion of populations and indigenous communities’ development, in order to protect and ensure the habitat of said communities, and to improve their standard of living and life conditions.

HEALTH

They agree to support and strengthen the integration and cooperation mechanisms in the area of health that must be geared towards the attainment of equity, decent life conditions and better levels of the social welfare of our populations.

ECOTOURISM

Countries Parties highlight the importance of the potential in ecotourism in the Amazon region, as a means to promote its economic benefit and as an instrument to reach the sustainable development of the region. In this sense, the Works of the Commission on Tourism of Amazonia (CETURA) must be encouraged, allocating resources to implement their regional development projections on the basis of ecotourism in the Amazon Region. To such intents and purposes, Governments undertake to give a new momentum to the study on the potential of ecotourism in the Amazonian Region, which shall be considered by CETURA in its next General Meeting, to be held in Peru.

INTERNATIONAL FINANCIAL RESOURCES

The Ministers of Foreign Affairs undertake to keep giving their political support to the efforts by the Pro Tempore Secretariat that enable the continued mobilization of international resources towards the Treaty for funding the joint sustainable development actions decided by Countries Parties.

In this context, the Parties are very recognizant for the financial and technical support made available by such governments as the Kingdom of the Netherlands, the Kingdom of Finland, and the Federal Republic of Germany, and by such international organizations as the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO), the European Union (EU), the Inter-American Development Bank (IDB), the United Nations Development Programme (PNUD), the World Bank (WB), the Global Environment Facility (GEF), the Organization of American States (OAS), the Andean Development Corporation (ADC) and others.
In this new era starting with the creation of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty Organization and its Permanent Secretariat, the Ministers call on the international community to keep supporting, from a technical and financial point of view, the Special Commissions already established within the framework of this major initiative for consensus building and regional cooperation for Amazonia.

I am honored to have the opportunity to lead such an important meeting in the pleasant city of Santa Cruz in which we will hold a fruitful exchange of ideas regarding the present and future of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty Organization (ACTO), under special circumstances which give rise to a new historic stage of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty. I express my hope that the creation of the Permanent Secretariat and the establishment of this new organization will ensure the protection and sustainable development of this vast reservoir of resources, in particular the most valuable of all: the human person.

Twenty-four years ago the republics of Bolivia, Brazil, Colombia, Ecuador, Guyana, Peru, Suriname, and Venezuela agreed to promote the harmonious development of the Amazon Region. The eight countries party were aware of the importance of raising the standard of living of their people, achieving the full incorporation of their Amazonian territories to the national economy and protecting the fragility and vulnerability of this ecosystem. That is the moment when the Amazon Cooperation Treaty emerged as an ideal instrument for the multilateral international cooperation in the effort to preserve and develop – in a sustainable way – the Amazon Basin. This is a region that comprehends an intricate exuberance, the biggest lung of the humanity, and home of a large number of indigenous cultures of native America that nowadays survive from the assaults committed by our ancestors.

I congratulate you on behalf of the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela to the Government of Bolivia and to the Pro Tempore Secretariat for the commendable work carried out in this two years of intensive management, which has contributed significantly to consolidate an important process for cooperation in the various areas covered by the Treaty. The results of this management show the liability assumed in such a delicate task, giving continuity to the excellence demonstrated by other Governments that preceded it in the exercise of the Secretariat.

My delegation welcomes the report submitted by the Secretariat Pro Tempore for the period 2000-2002, whose content highlights the process of institutionalization of the new organization, the intense work carried out in the Special Commissions and give us a glimpse of the commitments and challenges that must assume the new organization in the immediate future.

We recognize the dedication and the decisive impetus given to the Protocol of Amendment to the Treaty, which entered into force a few months ago, and gave rise to the Amazon Cooperation Treaty Organization (ACTO) as a result of the strong political will of States Parties.
This meeting is useful to reevaluate the role to be played from now on by the Amazon Cooperation Treaty Organization as a strategic tool in the service of the Countries Party. Hereafter the urgent need to increase its influence as a regional body in the articulation of the positions and in the design of joint actions at the regional and international levels, primarily in the areas of biodiversity, climate change, combat desertification and development of indigenous communities.

The Amazon Cooperation Treaty Organization, with legal personality, requires a renewed commitment of its members to meet the challenges of the complex reality of the Amazon Region. This will increase levels of interaction of the Treaty with other regional and international organizations and will offer the possibility of obtaining new opportunities in the field of cooperation and technology transfer, creating the most appropriate conditions to accelerate the environmental, economic and social development of the region. Through the new Permanent Secretariat the intergovernmental coordination within the framework of the Treaty may be reinforced and its presence enabled within the regional sustainable development.

In the field of health it should be enhanced the initiative of the Pro Tempore Secretariat of Bolivia having reactivated the Special Committee of the Amazon Region on Health (CESAM), and convened the 5th Ordinary Meeting held in the city of La Paz, Bolivia, in 2001. This meeting had as result several regional actions to combat malaria in a geographic area, particularly vulnerable, by the continued presence of outbreaks, and the project of network for the epidemiological surveillance in the Amazon region.

In this regard, the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela when referring to their constitutional text to social rights, expressed the following:

“Article 83: Health is a fundamental social right and the responsibility of the State, which shall guarantee it as part of the right to life. The State shall promote and develop policies oriented toward improving the quality of life, common welfare and access to services. All persons have the right to protection of health, as well as the duty to participate actively in the furtherance and protection of the same, and to comply with such health and hygiene measures as may be established by law, and in accordance with international conventions and treaties signed and ratified by the Republic. At the same time, Venezuela attached to its conservationist tradition, supports the Tarapoto Process as an instrument that will be the scope of our Organization in the many and varied activities linked to the sustainable forest development. This process will contribute to characterize the dimensions environmental, economic, social and cultural of sustainable forest management and will allow you to evaluate the situation and trends in quantitative and qualitative attributes of the Amazon forests and their management”.

Venezuela believes that validation of the Criteria and Indicators of the Amazonian Forest will help to improve the systems of forest management and assessment and will facilitate the control of the sustainable management of forests in order to preserve biodiversity in terms of health, vitality and productivity. It will also strengthen environmental statistics within the context of the international commitments made by the Countries Party.

Is necessary the outreach and promotion — among the Countries Party to the Treaty — of the results of the process of validation of the criteria and indicators, in order to contribute to the design and implementation of national forest policies, promoting the sustainability of the Amazon rainforest. Considering the increasing deforestation and degradation of our forests, a concern shared by the Member States, the application of criteria and indicators as a tool to achieve this aim, will help to adjust and improve forest management practices and promote the development of a forest heritage healthier and more productive to meet economic, environmental, social and cultural needs, in accordance with national policies, institutional frameworks and the financial possibilities.

With the creation of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty Organization and the establishment of its Permanent Secretariat strengthens the process under the framework of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty, and ensures the stability and efficiency in the development of technical cooperation activities of the Amazon Region, in the making of one of the greatest aspirations of the Treaty, which is the establishment of a multimodal transport infrastructure, through the Amazon, which include the opening of aerial networks to communicate efficiently the region. This also requires a search for international financing, coordination with other treaties, forums or integration initiatives, that contemplate the issue of infrastructure, transport and communications.

In the growing process of economic globalization and the international trend toward the maximization of the cultural and political interactions between societies highly influenced by the scientific and technological development, the Member Countries to the Amazon Cooperation Treaty have in their policies on science and technology an effective instrument to achieve the insertion in successful processes in terms of their own development and the welfare of their peoples. In this sense, we must make efforts for the purposes of fostering innovation and massification of knowledge with the aim of contributing to the economic growth and achieving higher levels of life quality for our countries.

In this context, human capital preparation is vital and crucial. It is also important the stimulus to economic growth and sustainable and equitable development, which is why we must encourage and strengthen the commitment to broaden and deepen the spaces of cooperation in science and technology among our countries, both in the public sector, as in the private sector, within the frame of the political, social and economic challenges that implies.

It is necessary to implement short-term recommendations emanating from this meeting, in order to crystallize policies, strategies and projects aimed at creating a multiplier effect in the socio-economic development and create new sources of employment that have as aim to increase the competitiveness in our countries through the sustainable use of biological diversity and the development of the economy based on information and communications technologies.

Finally it is important to emphasize that the Government of President Hugo Chavez Frias has reiterated its highest interest in the Amazon face, and hopes to continue pushing decisive and enthusiastically the activities, projects and programs that ensure the right of individual and collective human beings to enjoy a safe environment, healthy and ecologically balanced, as it is set in our Constitution: "Article 127: It is the right and duty of each generation to protect and maintain the environment for its own benefit and that of the world of the future. Everyone has the right, individually and collectively, to enjoy a safe, healthful and ecologically balanced life and environment. The State shall protect the environment, biological and genetic diversity, ecological processes, national parks and natural monuments, and other areas of particular ecological importance. The genome of a living being shall not be patentable, and the field shall be regulated by the law relating to the principles of bioethics. It is a fundamental duty of the State, with the active participation of society, to ensure that the populace develops in a pollution-free environment in which air, water, soil, coasts, climate, the ozone layer and living species receive special protection, in accordance with law.

Thank you very much.
SPEECH OF THE PRO TEMPORE SECRETARY OF THE AMAZON COOPERATION TREATY, MR. SERGIO SANchez BALLIViÁN, ON THE OCCASION OF THE SEVENTH MEETING OF MINISTERS OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS OF ACTO

Santa Cruz – Bolivia, 22\textsuperscript{nd}, November 2002

The ministerial meeting that brings us here today, has a particularly symbolism because it closes a long phase of exercise of the Pro Tempore Secretariat and establishes, in the Brazilian capital, the Permanent Secretariat of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty Organization.

This institutional change, made after almost a quarter of a century of cogency of the Treaty, is a fact of special relevance and a significant incentive to the strengthening of this instrument of articulation and consultation of the Amazonian countries to effect consensual policies for the sustainable development of the Amazon territories and joint action in multilateral environmental forums in important matters such as those relating to biodiversity and biotechnology, climate change, forests, water resources, desertification, toxic wastes, indigenous communities, financial resources, technology transfer, to mention a few.

The challenges we must face in this new stage, makes us participate in the common effort to carry out the commitment to deepen regional cooperation.

The effective transformation of the Treaty into an international organization with legal personality, gives the necessary vitality and the strength to work as a catalyst body for the initiatives of its member states, in order to move forward in the treatment and search for solutions to common problems in the Amazon Region, and from a broader perspective, in the south American integration process.

The effective installation of the Permanent Secretariat is an historic step that inspires in us a legitimate pride because the strengthening of the Treaty reaffirms our international presence and projects a renewed foreign policy of our countries.

Finally, I hope the successful outcome of this important meeting, where the Ministers of Foreign Affairs and his special representatives, shall establish guidelines for the management of our new organization.
SPEECH OF MR. CHANCELLOR OF THE REPUBLIC, LIC. CARLOS SAAVEDRA BRUNO, ON THE OCCASION OF THE SEVENTH MEETING OF MINISTERS OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS OF THE AMAZON COOPERATION TREATY

Santa Cruz de la Sierra, November 22nd, 2002

Many times, especially outside of our borders, Bolivia is identified as an Andean country.

The Andean roots are the heritage of all Bolivians. A heritage of which we are proud and that we respect and admire.

However, the reality is that Bolivia is a mainly Amazon country.

Of the more than one million one hundred thousand square kilometers of its territory, 724,000 belong to the Amazon area, which covers almost 70% of our national area. We are one of the eight nations that make up this basin, the third country with the largest presence in the Amazon region, surpassed only by Brazil and Peru.

This deep Amazon characteristic that our country has, allows us to understand the pride and the responsibility that this means.

Pride, because nature has given us an extraordinary gift. I could not, not in a thousand speeches, have sufficient eloquence to explain in words the beauty and majesty that the living forests, jungles, rivers, meanders and mangroves of the Amazon region.

I know that we do not need to do so, because we are in the Department of Santa Cruz which is, by nature and by vocation, deeply Amazon, and whose capital city, Santa Cruz de la Sierra, has in its landscape and its people, much of this beauty and spirit, at the same time bucolic and booming.

However, being part of the Amazon region involves, in addition, a great responsibility, because, the Amazon is – above all – an economic, environmental and cultural reserve of incalculable richness. This is a reserve from which we, the countries of the region, are responsible to the eyes of our peoples and also to the rest of the world.

I can’t fail to mention that it is the largest river basin of the world and that saves 20% of the world’s freshwater resources, as well as more than half of the biological diversity of the planet. Not in vain it is one of the last natural lungs of humanity.

In the lower part of the Amazon region inhabit 22 million people, of whom 1 million are culturally native, heirs of valuable knowledge and deep-rooted on its region, and deserves our respect and the most resolute attention from all of us.

Therefore, we sincerely believe that the Amazon Cooperation Council is a valuable tool to achieve a proper management of this region.

Management that involves a sustainable use of its wealth that allows us, within the frame of preservation and respect for the environment, make progress in improving the standard of living of the men and women of the entire region.

Hence, it is for us a huge satisfaction to celebrate in Bolivia the VII Meeting of Ministers of Foreign Affairs of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty. This is a meeting that puts an end to a complex but fruitful and successful chairmanship of the Bolivian Secretariat Pro Tempore.
Now, that the Amazon Cooperation Treaty begins to write a new and crucial stage with its Permanent Secretariat, we are proud that our country has been able to be scenario of the beginning of this new history of greater institutionalization and greater progress in our sub-regional integration.

All this would not have been possible without the work, without the will and without the effort of all of you. Thanks to all of you for being here and feel very welcome to Bolivia and welcome to Santa Cruz de la Sierra.

Welcome to this country and this Amazon city.

I declare opened the VII Meeting of Ministers of Foreign Affairs of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty.

Thank you very much.

OPENING CEREMONY

The Deputy-Minister Samuel Pinheiro Guimarães, as the representative of the host country to the 8th Meeting of Ministers of Foreign Affairs presented his compliments to the delegates, and welcomed the hospitality and kind attention of the Peruvian people and government.

Following that, he submitted the suggestion that H.E. Ambassador Oscar Maitúa should preside the meeting and ACTO Secretary-General should act as general secretary to the meeting to the plenary body for consideration. Both proposals were unanimously accepted.

The Chairman of the Meeting, H.E. Ambassador Oscar Maitúa de Romaña, Peruvian Chancellor, opened the meeting welcoming the delegations of ACTO member countries. In his words, he expressed his congratulations for the hard and harmonized work developed, whereby a set of important documents and resolutions had been approved that should guide the tasks to be performed by the governments of ACTO member countries throughout the coming year.

He expressed the opinion that ACTO country chancellors, by the occasion of the 25th Anniversary of the Treaty, should be more ambitious and try to consolidate integration mechanisms and contribute towards affirming the confluence and institutional articulation of the South American Community of Nations. He stressed the concept of “environmental citizenship” that tries to harmonize the Andean and Amazonian ecosystems and incorporate equity and social justice as guiding principles to development. Furthermore, he underlined the need for enhancing the efforts oriented towards increasing scientific and technological cooperation to protect and promote the sustainable use of Amazonian biological and genetic resources.
He outlined the role played by international cooperation in environmental research, biotechnology, wood products, among others and called attention to the worrying issue of deforestation and its incidence on water resources.

He made reference to the major commitments undertaken by the country members, based on the resolutions approved and the Declaration of Iquitos. He emphasized the starting of negotiations based on the Peruvian initiative of approving an Amazonian Charter as a guideline for the region.

The President of XIII Meeting of the Amazon Cooperation Council (ACC), Ambassador Javier González Lumps, briefly presented the results of the meeting, the contents of which are in the meeting Minutes which were approved by the delegations, and thanked the personnel of the Chancellery of Peru and ACTO Permanent Secretariat for their persistence and results achieved.

2. READING AND APPROVAL OF THE AGENDA FOR THE IX THE MEETING OF MINISTERS OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS OF THE MEMBER STATES OF THE AMAZON COOPERATION TREATY ORGANIZATION

The draft agenda was read and submitted for the approval of the delegations. Upon the Chairman’s request, the Secretary-General submitted the draft agenda, which was approved by the plenary session.

4. ACTIVITIES REPORT OF ACTO SECRETARY GENERAL, FOR THE PERIOD BETWEEN SEPTEMBER 2004 AND OCTOBER 2005 (INCLUDING ADMINISTRATIVE AND FINANCIAL ASPECTS)

The chairman then granted the floor to the ACTO Secretary General to present the Activities Report to the plenary body.

Dr. Rosalía Arteaga greeted the delegates and presented the Activities Report, commenting the challenges posed to the Organization and the prospects for the future. Furthermore, she thanked the Member States’ confidence in assigning her the duty of heading the ACTO Permanent Secretariat.

In her intervention, the Secretary-General emphasized the commitment shared by the Governments towards protecting the Amazon region, and then informed about the most relevant achievements along the last year of work. Among such achievements, she stressed the political visibility reached at global level by a multilateral organization exclusively devoted to Amazonian regional themes.

She highlighted that this visibility has contributed to the process of enhancing the dialogue among the countries because the multi-theme structure of ACTO naturally leads the countries to get closer, debate and, sometimes, reach consensus and solutions for problems faced by all Amazon countries. In this regard, one could say that ACTO’s value lies in its capacity for viewing the basin as a whole.

She added that the PS/ACTO has fulfilled its duty, by translating the public mandate into concrete actions for sustainable development and preservation of the Amazon region, which was achieved by the implementation of the Strategic Plan, thus concretizing the mandates received in September 2004.

The Secretary General called attention to the great debt there was to those fellow countrymen that live in the Amazon, to future generations and to humanity because it had not been possible to avoid the destruction of a considerable part of the Amazonian Natural heritage, of incalculable value to the future of life on the planet. In that sense she highlighted the natural relationship that exists between the Andean and Amazon regions and which is reflected in this year’s surprising drought.
In her address she stressed that the ATCO is the best and most suitable space there is for integrating our countries and for the integration of South America.

She wound up by saying that to fulfill the ample mandate that it possesses, the ATCO needs to increase its technical capacity and to enjoy a political space in which it can act, strictly within the bounds of its mandate, but granting the means necessary to do so and avoiding bureaucratic impediments. For this reason she called for commitment to action in favor of the sustainable development of the Amazon.

The chairmen expressed his thanks for Dr. Rosalía Arteaga’s presentation and submitted the Activities Report for the consideration of the plenary body which duly approved it in accordance with the recommendations of the XIII ACC.

5. INTERVENTIONS OF THE MINISTERS OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS OF THE MEMBER COUNTRIES OF THE AMAZON COOPERATION TREATY ORGANIZATION

The Deputy Minister of Foreign Affairs of Ecuador highlighted the importance of integration and interconnection of air transport among the Amazon capitals. He also pointed out the importance his country attributes to water resources, stressing what an honor it was to be in the city of Iquitos and he wound up his intervention by emphasizing the importance of cooperation giving as an example the Piura – Guayaquil highway, fruit of a peace treaty between Peru and Ecuador.

The Brazilian delegate thanked Peru and Ambassador Torrões for conducting the XIII ACC so well and was emphatic in congratulating Dr. Arteaga on the Report she had presented and in declaring integral support not only for the report but also for the actions that had been carried out by the Executive Secretary. He also thanked Ambassador Ribadeneira for offering to host the III Summit Meeting of Presidents of ATCO Member Countries.

In his intervention, the Brazilian delegate stressed that the Amazon is on the outskirts of the outskirts and for that reason each Government had to give redoubled attention to development of the region.

He mentioned the responsibility of the developed countries in regard to climatic changes for which the developing countries and especially the Amazon countries could not be expected to meet the costs, as deforestation could not be considered as the only factor in global warming. He further expressed his government’s favorable opinion in regard to accrediting France as an ACTO observer.

The Bolivian delegate, in his remarks, informed the meeting that his country was going to take firm action in the field of education and in connection with that would be submitting a proposal. He also thanked the government of Peru for the organization and offered his congratulations on the Report presented by the Secretary General.

The Colombian delegate thanked Peru for the warm welcome and the organization of the event and congratulated the ATCO Secretary General on the enthusiasm with which had been acting and the efforts of the work team that accompanied her. In his remarks he highlighted the visionary nature of the treaty.

He further pointed out that the ACT continued to be a tool for the development of the region and for that reason should be fortified, adding that it was necessary to complement the efforts towards integration underway in South America but without setting up any new regional integration authorities.

He gave a special greeting to the French delegate and informed the meeting that the observations that had been made by his delegation during the ACC meeting, on the admission of observers to ACTO meetings, had referred to the urgent need for clear statutes establishing precise criteria for the admission of observers and especially to regulate their participation in the meetings.
In this sense he made a passionate appeal for advances in the writing of the statutes that would regulate the participation of observers based on the instructions to the ACC so that the task could be completed before the Meeting of ACTO Heads of State to be held in Quito in the coming year when it would be possible to welcome those states that had expressed interest in participating as observers.

The Guyana delegate apologized for the absence of Minister Samuel Rudolph Insanally and of the CARICOM Secretary General. She also expressed her gratitude for the courtesy of the Peruvian government and of the local authorities and expressed congratulations on the work of the Permanent Secretary. She added her words to those of the Colombian delegate welcoming the presence of France with whom her government maintained important links. The ATCO was in a new phase and Guyana supported this growth process. She expressed the importance of the Treaty as an instrument for promoting regional cooperation especially for her country, given its cultural bonds with the Caribbean. The fight against poverty and the improvement of the quality of life had to be the central point of the ACT taking into consideration the importance of the human being as an element of the environment.

She stressed the importance of, and the interest of her country in participating in the SIPAM-SIVAM system as an instrument for monitoring infrastructure development projects in remote areas of the country.

She closed by making an appeal for careful preparations for the Meeting of Presidents in Quito so that concrete results might be obtained.

The Surinam delegate also thanked the people and government of Peru and Iquitos for the warm welcome that had been given and apologized for the absence of the Minister of Foreign Affairs. He congratulated the Permanent Secretary on the important and enthusiastic work that had been done. He called attention to the fact that many of our activities in the ACTO also occur in other organizations like the IIRSA for which reason it was necessary to integrate efforts.

He highlighted the impact of illegal mining on water resources and requested support from the Permanent Secretary in regard to that aspect.

Finally, he declared himself in favor of the presence of France as an observer.

The French delegate took the floor to express gratitude for the friendly invitation that had been extended by the government of Peru and by the ATCO member countries, to take part in the meeting.

He reminded them that France’s longest frontier is with Brazil and that it has kept up longstanding relations with the ATCO through high level Centers of Investigation such as IRD and CIRAD, among others. He highlighted the various programs that the latter had been developing with a regional orientation, on several themes of interest to the Amazon countries, such as water resources, food safety, health and biodiversity.

He informed the meeting of his government’s initiative in the sense of establishing a remote sensing center in Cayenne with high-resolution images, and he offered this installed technical capacity to develop initiatives in cooperation with the Amazon countries.

The region holds key energy and biodiversity resources for humanity but our territorial community is made up of free sovereign countries well aware of their responsibilities to future generations. IX MEETING OF CHANCELLORS OF MEMBER STATES OF THE AMAZON COOPERATION TREATY ORGANIZATION

CONSIDERING:

That one of the first actions taken by Amazon Cooperation Treaty, was to establish operational mechanisms, to encourage the formulation of UNAMAZ integrated by universities from the eight countries of the Amazon region.

That the signatory countries recognize in UNAMAZ a privileged space for the management of knowledge and the scientific and technological information, as well as training and specialization of human resources capable of creating, assimilate and disaggregate the knowledge of a tangible academic-scientific community of the continental Amazon region.
That the Permanent Secretariat of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty Organization (ACTO) in the proposed Strategic Plan for the period 2004-2012, provides, within the four strategic axis, knowledge management and technological exchange and integration and regional competitiveness.

In this context, the role that the universities have is to act as ACTO scientific tool for the development and compliance with the Strategic Plan of ACTO.

That UNAMAZ and OTCA have signed an agreement of mutual cooperation within the framework of its purpose and objectives.

Counting on the terms and assumptions of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty, there is a need to broaden and deepen the scope of the initiatives of the UANMAZ on all educational levels: primary, secondary, undergraduate and postgraduate, through formal and informal systems of education.

That, since the establishment of its Permanent Secretariat, ACTO has managed to position itself in the international arena in front of friendly countries and other organizations that wish to cooperate in projects for the sustainable development of the Amazon region.

RESOLVES:

CELEBRATE that both the ACTO as UNAMAZ have achieved to restructure the political — academic fabric as an instrument of cooperation between the countries that are signatories of the Treaty.

The Permanent Secretariat of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty Organization was represented by the Secretary General, Ambassador Manuel Picasso.

The complete list of delegations is attached to these minutes as Annex 1.

INAUGURAL CEREMONY

The Minister of Foreign Affairs of Peru, Ambassador José Antonio García Belaúnde, offered a warm welcome to the delegations participating in this 10th Meeting of Ministers of Foreign Affairs of the Member Countries of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty Organization (ACTO) and highlighted that the meeting was being held at a particularly significant moment for the Member Countries of ACTO that were celebrating the 30th anniversary of the entry into force of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty, one year after having adopted the Declaration of Heads of State on ACTO in Manaus.

In this context, he expressed Peru’s firm commitment to this unprecedented regional cooperation process whose highest body was being convened five years after the last meeting, held in Iquitos.

In addition, he noted that upon celebrating this 10th Meeting in parallel to the onset of the United Nations Climate Change Conference in Cancun, the Member Countries of ACTO would approve a Declaration with a clear call for results that would allow binding, ambitious and effective commitments to confront climate change.

He ended by saying that this session would address deeply relevant issues for the future, relaunching and consolidation of ACTO. The decisions adopted on its institutional, financial, programmatic and regulatory restructuring will be fruit of a renewed consensus among the Member Countries to project ACTO in the coming years.

The Minister of Foreign Affairs of Peru formally opened the work sessions and submitted the Agenda proposed by the Amazon Cooperation Council (ACC) for the 10th Meeting of Ministers of Foreign Affairs to the delegations for consideration. The Agenda was unanimously approved and is attached to these Minutes as Annex 2.

On behalf of the Minister of Foreign Affairs, Ambassador David Choquehuanca Cespedes, and of the Plurinational State of Bolivia, Ambassador Pablo Guzman thanked the Peruvian government for the attentions and warmly greeted the...
Representatives present in the 10th Meeting of Ministers of Foreign Affairs of ACTO. He expressed his satisfaction in celebrating the 30th anniversary of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty Organization's integration process, whose objectives are based on cooperation, exchange and knowledge frameworks guided by the principle of reducing regional asymmetries between the Member Countries.

He also highlighted the relaunching of ACTO, which has the support of its Member Countries in seeking to implement the Amazonian Strategic Cooperation Agenda and the new regulations. To conclude he called on the Member Countries and the Secretariat to work in the region and combat the effects of climate change, seeking binding, ambitious and effective commitments.

Ambassador Antonio Patriota, Brazil's Secretary General of External Relations, emphasized the importance of holding the 10th Meeting of Ministers in the year that we celebrate the 30th anniversary of the entry into force of the ACT, and underscored the need for more frequent high level meetings to intensify ACTO's political agenda. In the context of the Organization's relaunching process driven by the 2009 Meeting of Heads of State of the Amazon countries, Ambassador Patriota called attention to the importance of updating ACTO's mandate through a new Amazonian Strategic Cooperation Agenda that includes emerging topics like climate change, energy and regional development.

In his intervention the Brazilian Vice-Minister of External Relations alluded to the fact that the 10th Ministerial Meeting was being held in a context of good relations between the Amazon countries — upon which he complimented the Governments of Colombia and Venezuela for reinstating diplomatic relations — and a rising environmental agenda in the international debate. As an example he cited the 16th Conference of the Parties to the UNFCCC, held simultaneously to the Meeting of Ministers of Foreign Affairs of the Amazon Countries. In this sense Ambassador Patriota stressed the importance of conferring institutional capacity and financial autonomy on ACTO so that it may contribute to improving the quality of life of the Amazonian populations and ensuring greater participation of the Amazon countries in international negotiations on environmental matters.

Demonstrating the Brazilian Government's commitment to revitalizing the ACT, Ambassador Patriota offered to host the next Ministerial Meeting in Brazil in 2011 to follow-up on the initiatives approved in the Lima Meeting.

Subsequently the Minister of Foreign Affairs of Colombia, Ambassador Maria Angela Holguin, thanked the Government of Peru for hosting the meeting and stressed the importance that her Government attributes to the 10th Meeting of Ministers of Foreign Affairs of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty, which is being held at a particularly important moment for her country due both to the priority being assigned to fulfilling the demands of the Amazon region and to the need to strengthen cooperation at the regional level.

The Head of the Ecuadorian Delegation, Ambassador José Maria Borja, Under-Secretary for Latin America and the Caribbean, stated that his country will continue supporting all the thematic axes programmed so that the Amazon Region may reach optimal sustainable development levels, including: high standards for health, science, technology and education; timely treatment of indigenous matters; fight against hunger and poverty; protection of biodiversity and the entire Amazonian environment, which provides us with globally unique wildlife; responsible management of water and forest resources; promotion of community-based tourism; use of alternative energy sources; and feasible infrastructure options that provide adequate navigation and transportation systems for the inhabitants of the Amazon.

He also noted that Ecuador's position on environmental matters is reflected in proposals and initiatives like the Yasuni-ITT and Net Avoided Emissions, which will be presented in the coming Cancun Summit. These proposals seek to avoid CO2 emissions and are protected by values like environmental justice, which promotes a development model based on living well and the rights of nature.

Representing his government Ambassador Harry Narine Nawbatt of the Cooperative Republic of Guyana to Brazil expressed a firm commitment to the action taken under the current administration of the Permanent Secretariat to give renewed vigor and relaunch the regional cooperation process between the Member Countries of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty Organization. He highlighted that on the occasion it would be fundamental to adopt a set of measures to enable compliance with the mandate of the Manaus Declaration, thus enabling the adoption of a new institutional structure and a new Regional Cooperation Agenda. He also thanked the Government of Peru for its efforts in hosting the meeting.

The Minister of Foreign Affairs of Suriname, Ambassador Winston Lackin, expressed his appreciation for the hospitality offered by the Government of Peru and reiterated the excellent work done by the Permanent Secretariat in relaunching ACTO.

He reaffirmed his Government’s commitment to the objectives of the Organization and applauded the results achieved in this 10th Meeting, especially considering that a Surinamese national will be the Secretary General of ACTO in 2012. Minister Lackin further stressed the relevance of ACTO in the wider integration policy of Suriname.

The Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela, Mr Nicolás Maduro, called attention to the geostrategic importance of the Amazon and to the commitment to strengthen it shared by all the member states of the Organization. He especially emphasized the institutional strengthening of CONAPER in Venezuela that made possible the collective construction of the Organization’s New Strategic Agenda, the new roadmap of ACTO. He reiterated the interest of the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela in advancing the formulation of regulations for commercial navigation on the rivers of the 8 countries of the region. Regulations that will lead to its development, a sustainable development that goes hand in hand with improvements for its inhabitants and environmental preservation.

1. PRESENTATION OF THE PERMANENT SECRETARIAT ACTIVITIES REPORT

After greeting the delegations the Secretary General of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty Organization, Ambassador Manuel Picasso, thanked the Ministers and Heads of Delegations for their cooperation and support during his 16 months in office, and the Peruvian Ministry of Foreign Affairs for organizing the meeting. He then presented the Activities Report of the Permanent Secretariat for the period of July 2009 to November 2010, emphasizing the efforts made to reverse the institutional crisis in which the Organization and its Permanent Secretariat had been immersed.

He informed that one of the main tasks had been to assist the Member Countries in identifying the measures needed to endow ACTO with a renewed and modern role as a cooperation, exchange, knowledge and joint projection forum to face the new and complex international challenges. He extended his appreciation for the support and commitment of the Member Countries through the ACC and the Working Groups of Focal Points in the Ministries of Foreign Affairs and CCOOR, which had made it possible to fulfill the tasks commissioned.

One of the aspects highlighted in the Activities Report was compliance with the mandate issued in the Manaus Declaration of November 2009 for the Ministers to strengthen the cooperation process by considering the New Strategic Amazonian Cooperation Agenda for the short, medium and long terms. The Agenda contains regional level actions to support the national initiatives.

He acknowledged the work done by the ACC, thanks to which the Organization has a new framework for relating with the international cooperation agencies that will make it possible to ensure this cooperation is aligned with the priorities of the Member Countries.

The Secretary General also referred to the new institutional communication strategy that will expedite work within ACTO through a new website designed with an extranet system to facilitate communication and consultations with the Ministries of Foreign Affairs of the Member Countries.

Finally, he noted that to fulfill its current and new mandates ACTO will require greater financial and technical autonomy, in addition to greater leeway for its Permanent Secretariat to operate – strictly within the regulatory boundaries – as an efficient body that produces results, avoiding unnecessary administrative constraints. To this extent he called on the Ministers to strengthen their commitment to act in favor of Amazonian cooperation.
The Chair thanked Ambassador Picasso for his presentation and submitted the Management Report to the plenary for consideration. Following the recommendations of the 14th ACC Meeting the Report was approved and is attached as Annex 3.

She noted that they had concluded the review of the draft Lima Declarations, the draft Declaration of the Member Countries of ACTO for the UNFCCC, the new Amazonian Strategic Cooperation Agenda, and the draft Resolutions to be presented next to the Ministers.

In addition the Chair asked the plenary to consider and approve the text of the Declaration of the Member Countries of ACTO for the 16th Conference of the Parties to the UNFCCC. The Declaration was approved and is attached as Annex 6.

The Member Countries of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty Organization:

Recognizing that the United Nations Conference on Environment and Development held in June 1992 in Rio de Janeiro (Rio Summit) meant consolidating the sustainable development paradigm that integrates the social, environmental and economic mainstays of development at the same level of importance, emphasize the transcendence of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty as a development instrument for sustainable development in the Amazon region.

Certain that the Rio+20 Conference is an adequate opportunity to assess and determine actions and measures that enable achievement of sustainable development, emphasize the importance that must be assigned to the Amazon region due to its contribution and significance for biodiversity, climate stability and their integral development.

Guided by the principles of sovereignty, solidarity, cooperation, participation of the Amazonian people, respect and harmony with nature and its ecosystems, integrated sustainable development and reducing asymmetries among the nations of the Amazon region.

Concerned that unsustainable production and consumption patterns continue to exist 20 years after the 1992 Rio Summit, as expressed in the Declaration of the Presidents of the Amazon Countries in February 1992 in Manaus.

Aware that Principle 7 of the Rio Declaration on shared but differentiated responsibilities constitutes an essential instrument to overcome those patterns and attain sustainable development.

Convinced of their responsibility to enrich the Rio+20 Conference under a regional approach, have decided to adopt this:

DECLARATION

• Ratify their conviction that development must be attained by reconciling sustainable use, protection and conservation of resources to transform the current model into sustainable development models that are economically inclusive and respect nature, its ecosystems and the rights of the peoples.

• Commit to promoting sustainable development and lifestyles, in harmony with nature and the environment, respecting the rights of the countries to use their own resources to ensure welfare and progress.

• Emphasize support and contribution of South-South cooperation as an instrument to reduce asymmetries and for properly coordinated regional action, and consider that such initiatives must be promoted and strengthened through the possible provision of new and additional resources and an effective transfer of technology and capacity building.

• Urge developed countries to commit strongly to fulfilling internationally agreed upon targets and objectives, with international responsibility and solidarity, and especially through greater commitment to providing new, additional and predictable financial resources.

• Reiterate that after more than 30 years in effect the Amazon Cooperation Treaty has proven to be a valid framework for sustainable and inclusive development in the respective Amazonian territories under the criteria of sustainability, conservation and use of natural resources.
• Reaffirm the regional vision for conservation and sustainable use of renewable natural resources and sustainable development, with emphasis on eradicating poverty and improving the quality of life of the Amazonian population, are transversal axes of regional action.

• Ratify that eradicating poverty is an indispensable element to attain sustainable development, stressing the importance of developing a joint agenda for social inclusion in the Amazon region.

• Recognize the challenges faced jointly by all the Member Countries in the pursuit of sustainable development, where public and/or private production investments, like technology transfer, innovation and finance, must be part of the international and regional negotiation agenda in the quest for mechanisms that contribute to its implementation.

• Hope that the results of the UNCSD Rio+20 translate into actions that make it possible to overcome the obstacles to sustainable development, and solutions for the structural causes of negative environmental, economic and social impacts caused by unsustainable production and consumption patterns and policies in sectors that are essential for the survival of mankind; as such, they hope that the results of the Conference take full account of the social element of sustainability.

• Ratify that the Amazon Strategic Cooperation Agenda adopted in the 10th Meeting of Ministers of Foreign Affairs is a model for building consensus and joint work to achieve the new development objectives, including institutional strengthening.

Furthermore, were mentioned the results of the Workshop with the officers in charge of the National Programs on Bio-commerce of the Country Members and the Memorandum of Understanding subscribed between the ACTO and the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development (UNCTAD), during the 11th Meeting of UNCTAD (São Paulo, Brazil, on June 15th, 2004), which starts up a program of technical cooperation to foster the sustainable use of biodiversity in the Organization Country Members’ Amazon region, named “Regional Program of Bio-commerce for the Amazon”; also informed about the I Workshop of Harmonization and Programming, (Lima, Peru, 26 and 27 of July) within the framework of Project TCP/RLA3007 “Validation of 15 Priority Sustainability Indicators to the Amazon Forest”, that derives from the agreement subscribed between ACTO and FAO on May 25th 2005. This project shall be granted US$ 40 thousand as cooperation, and formally started the “Tarapoto Process”. Moreover, the Secretary-General informed that all the Countries Members had fulfilled the requirements for the implementation of the Projects “Joint Cooperation Actions among the Countries of the Amazon to fight the Malaria”, and the development of the “Network of Epidemiological Surveillance” with the technical support of PAHO/WHO to contribute towards developing regional initiatives of control and care to other diseases such as tuberculosis, HIV/AIDS, leishmaniosis and schistosomiasis, among other endemic parasitism. Dr. Arteaga, also informed about the new Temporary Headquarters of the Organization, declaring the Organization’s gratefulness to the Government of Brazil for the hospitality to the Secretariat in the course of its initial installation in Brasilia, at the building of the Palace of Itamaraty.

On the other hand, she referred to the current status of the approval of the Standard Agreement between ACTO and the Government of the Brazil, under the analysis of the Brazilian House of Representatives and Senate.

In that sense, the delegations expressed their congratulations to the Permanent Secretary for the content of the Management Report, emphasizing that the short 4 months of work of the General Secretariat, are inversely proportional to the degree of advance registered, providing CCOOR as a mechanism of support to approaching other regional or sub-regional organizations to support this process, and getting to know, since early stages, the contents of documents such as the Memoranda of Understandings.

Then, the 12th Meeting of the Amazon Cooperation Council decided to approve the Draft Resolution that approves the ACTO Permanent Secretariat Management Report in the period from May to September 2004.

The Presidency of the Meeting then approached organization-related subjects to be dealt with during the 8th Meeting of Ministers of Foreign Affairs of ACTO Country Members as follows: Standard Agreement between the Permanent Secretariat of ACTO and the Government of the Federal Republic of Brazil; Contribution Quotas of ACTO Members to the plain work of the Permanent Secretariat; Structure of ACTO and its Permanent Secretariat: Organizational Chart and Applications to the vacancies of Special Coordinators; and, Draft Resolutions to be submitted to the consideration and approval of the Chancellors of ACTO Country Members.

Regarding the Standard Agreement, the Head of the Delegation of Brazil commented that this procedure was a novelty for its legislative structure, since ACTO is the first International Organization with headquarters in Brazil.

Concerning the countries’ contributions, the delegations committed themselves to continue the efforts in order to settle their contributions. Colombia informed that before the end of the year or the first month of the next one it would be able to settle his pending commitments with the Organization; Suriname, on the other hand, informed that in one month it would regularize its situation. The analysis of the Draft resolutions was postponed.
ANALYSIS OF ACTO STRATEGIC PLAN

ACTO Secretary-General briefly presented the content of ACTO Permanent Secretariat Strategic Plan, stressing the contributions by the Country Members during the 1st International Meeting of ACTO National Permanent Commissions (Brasilia, 1 and 2 July 2004) which have been incorporated to the document. The Executive Director provided details on the information provided by the Secretary-General.

After both interventions the participants agreed that the Plan had been designed like a Navigation chart, of flexible nature, subject to changes along time and the dynamics imposed by the global agenda of Sustainable Development; nevertheless, it was necessary to establish a Work Group Ad hoc to standardize some terminologies and count on a new and more consensual version that would be approved by the Chancellors.

In that sense, the 12th CCA, decided to approve the Draft Resolution that approves the Strategic Plan.

ANALYSIS OF THE DRAFT DECLARATION OF MANAUS

The full list of participants is attached hereto as Appendix I.

OPENING CEREMONY

The Head of the Brazilian delegation, Ambassador Eduardo José Martins Felicio, as representative of the country hosting the XII Meeting of the Amazon Cooperation Council, welcomed the friendly treatment received in Peru and reiterated that in Brazil’s view the treaty should be reinforced and that with Dr. Rosalia Arteaga, the OTC had experienced a great impulse towards sustainable development and the benefits it brings for the peoples of the Amazon and their standards of living as well as for strengthening the countries’ Amazonian territories within their national economies. He reminded those present of the important contribution of the ACTO in issues concerning frontiers, as national efforts cannot be detained at the frontier. For this reason, declared the Brazilian delegate, the ACT was created 25 years ago so that themes like education, the environment, health and others, might be dealt with in a regional context.

After Brazil’s proposal the meeting turned to the election of the presiding panel which was made up as follows: as Chairman, the Head of the Peruvian Delegation, Ambassador Javier González Torróes; as First Vice Chairwoman, the Head of the Guyana delegation, Ambassador Marilyn Cheryl Miles; as second Vice Chairman, the Head of the Colombian Delegation, Dr. Ricardo Montenegro Coral; and as Meeting Secretary, the ACTO’s Permanent Secretary, to carry out the functions of taking the minutes of the meeting. The composition of the presiding panel was submitted to the plenary body and approved.

Once the responsibilities had been taken on, the Chairman of the panel took the floor and in welcoming the delegates, expressed his confidence in a successful conclusion for the work of the session as well as his belief that an ample consensus would be obtained on the pending issues so that the Ministers would be able to declare with total certainty that the ACTO had come out of IX Meeting of Ministers of Foreign Affairs stronger than before and then began the work of the meeting in the following order:

1. APPROVAL OF THE AGENDA

The preliminary agenda was read out for the delegation’s consideration and the following comments were made:
The Venezuelan delegate requested the floor, thanked Peru for the warm welcome given to the delegations and requested that in items 6 and 8 the term “revision” be substituted by the term “consideration” and in item 7 the term “revision” be substituted by the term “presentation”. In addition he explained that the last request was due to the fact that she wished to know Peru’s initial proposal on the Amazon Charter.

The delegate for Peru took the floor, complimented and congratulated Dr. Rosalía Arteaga on her period of office, made a reference to the Amazon Charter and made it clear that the Charter had been put before the Governments in July of 2005 but that he was disposed to make a presentation of the concepts and substance of the Charter.

The delegate for Ecuador, in turn, thanked the Peruvian Government and passed on the greetings of his delegation to the city of Iquitos. In regard to the request of the Venezuelan delegate he showed his concern in relation to the work carried out by the CCACC, which would become useless as would the advances obtained in Brasilia, should it be necessary to revise the Amazon Charter. He further stressed that the project had been officially presented to the Governments for their consideration.

The delegate from Venezuela declared that the said project would need further consideration and this would mean additional negotiations for it to be approved. She considered that it would be correct for the “Peruvian Delegation to make a presentation of the Amazon Charter” and reiterated that it was also necessary to change “revision” to “consideration” in items 6 and 8.

On the other hand, the Peruvian Delegate stated that the Amazon Charter was no longer a project because the countries had already expressed their positions officially and there had been consensual work among the delegations.

The Chairman of the meeting took the floor, accepted Venezuela’s request in relation to items 6 and 8 of the agenda but left item 7 as it had been originally proposed. In this way the agenda was approved and the meeting passed on to the next item.

The agenda that was approved is attached to these minutes as Appendix II.

2. PRESENTATION OF THE ACTIVITIES REPORT

Continuing with the meeting agenda the chairman offered the floor to the ACTO Secretary General who greeted the delegates, expressed gratitude for the extraordinary cooperation and hard work of the Peruvian Chancellery in organizing the Meeting and for the warm welcome offered by the city of Iquitos and then turned to the presentation of the activities report for the period from September 2004 to October 2005.

The Activities Report of the Permanent Secretariat of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty Organization (PS/ACTO) is attached to these minutes as Appendix III.

The presiding Chairman thanked Dr. Rosalía Arteaga for the presentation and submitted the report for the consideration of the plenary body.

The Brazilian delegate expressed thanks for the far reaching report presented by the Secretary General which reflected the work done by the organization since the meeting in Manaus and made specific references to the following points: he stated that the Headquarters Agreement had been undergoing due process in the Congress for two years in spite of the efforts made by the executive branch for the Brazilian parliamentarians to conclude it. He expressed gratitude for the financial report of the PS/ATCO and complimented the new Administrative Director of the organization, Dr. Flávio Sottomayor.

In regard to the Cooperation Program SIVAM—SIPAM, he explained that in spite of his government’s wishes it had not yet proved possible to find an adequate solution for the costs the beneficiary countries would have to take on, but pointing out that the ATCO could have an important role in the process.
He further mentioned that in the documents that had been circulated, there was a new concept of Andean-Amazonian integrality and expressed his delegation’s interest in deepening the discussion of the concept which would call for an ample reflection on the part of the Member Countries.

The Venezuelan delegate expressed her gratitude and in the name of her government, congratulated the Secretary General on the exhaustive report and on the enthusiasm demonstrated. In regard to the multiple agreements and contracts signed by the Permanent Secretary and in view of that set out in the third paragraph of the Protocol of Amendment of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty, she requested the Permanent Secretary to supply information on the methodology used for consulting the countries emphasizing the need for Venezuela to have profound knowledge of the contents of the said instruments that had been signed.

The Peruvian delegate expressed his gratitude and congratulated the Secretary General Dr. Rosalía Arteaga on the work done which, in his opinion, personifies the new spirit of the organization thanks to her dynamism, capability and extraordinary projection in the international community. He expressed Peru’s satisfaction with the advances attained and extended his congratulations to the entire ACTO team.

The Guyana delegate thanked Peru for its hospitality and her colleagues for their confidence in electing her as vice chairwoman of the meeting. She considered that in spite of its being a young body, the ATCO had produced an important impact in the region due to the dynamism of Dr. Rosalía Arteaga and the arduous labor of the secretariat and reiterated her government’s commitment to the organization. She remarked on her government’s interest in putting forward a candidate for the post of coordinator in the field of transport, infrastructure and tourism.

In regard to the SIPAM-SIVAM system, she reiterated her government’s interest in an initiative that would guarantee small countries like Guyana, access to the benefits of that system. In regard to the Permanent National Commissions she explained the limited technical capacity of her chancellery for coordinating ATCO projects and expressed the need to find mechanisms to permit at least temporary support for the Commission and that would permit it to participate fully in the activities undertaken under the aegis of the Treaty.

The delegate for Ecuador added his thanks and expressions of congratulation to those of the other delegations and considered the comparative advantages of the ATCO with its capacity for dealing with Amazonian themes in an integral manner. He further added that his government gave support to work of the Permanent National Commission and mentioned the Financial Report, which demonstrated the transparency of the Secretariat’s administrative processes. In regard to what had been mentioned by Venezuela he expressed the idea that the PS/ATCO is fully capable of signing cooperation agreements with other organizations, which may contribute to the carrying out of ATCO mandates.

The Bolivian delegate, in the name of the Bolivian nation, expressed gratitude for the warm welcome offered by Peru and thanked Dr. Rosalía Arteaga for the interesting, complete and challenging report presented. He highlighted the importance of passing on to a phase of developing integral programs, above all, in the field of education wherein the different levels from primary to post-graduate should reflect a better knowledge of the Amazon and make this felt in practice to benefit the populations of our region. The Bolivian delegate announced that Bolivia would put forward a document to that effect.

In relation to the Secretariat team made up of 22 people and with a tendency to get bigger, he inquired whether the contributions from the countries would be sufficient to pay these employees. In regard to the agreements signed with third parties, he recognized ATCO’s capacity for signing such agreements but requested that PS/ATCO always inform the countries before signing especially when it may imply financial commitments for the countries.
The turn, the Colombian delegate added his thanks for the warm reception offered by the Peruvian Government. He highlighted the efficient way in which the Amazon Cooperation Treaty had been developing until it had transformed itself into a tool that was leading towards the destiny for which it had been conceived. He reiterated Colombia’s commitment to this scenario and although it had not proved possible to hold some of the meetings that should have been held pursuant to the mandate of the Declaration of Manuas such as the Meeting on Amazon Integral Security, he confirmed the offer made by the Colombian Minister of Defense to hold the said meeting on February 23 and 24 in the city of Bogotá. He further made it known that the decree establishing the Permanent National Committee, an instrument that can contribute to negotiations between ACTO and third parties, had already been issued and highlighted the importance of the Permanent Secretary’s informing the countries about negotiations before signing agreements.

The Bolivian delegate requested the floor to support Venezuela’s suggestion that there should be a methodology for circulating information on the agreements prior to their being signed.

The Peruvian delegate made mention of the lack of regulations for the Permanent Secretariat, which resulted in the de facto procedures being carried out by the Secretariat. According to the terms of the treaty, it may not sign international instruments that commit the signatory countries, and those that had been signed referred to specific projects in support of the execution of its duties. The budget of the Secretariat as well as the delays in the contributions had made it necessary for the Secretariat to have recourse to international cooperation in order to implement the multiple activities it undertakes. He suggested that a Work Group be constituted to examine and propose an updating of the regulations concerning the Permanent Secretariat. He pointed out that ATCO already has the character of a legally constituted international entity and the regulations had to reflect this delegated capability in view of this same legal nature.

The delegate of the Republic of Venezuela supported the proposal of the Peruvian delegate as the strengthening ATCO was of inestimable value for the Amazon countries and she emphasized the consensus that had been arrived at on the setting up of a Working Group.

The chairman of the meeting gave the floor to Dr. Rosalía Arteaga who expressed her gratitude for the generous words of the delegations representing a substantial backing for the General Secretariat and its work team which, although quite small, had shown extraordinary efficiency and had not spared any efforts to make feasible the results achieved.

In regard to the Brazilian delegate’s intervention respecting the SIPAM-SIVAM system, she pointed out that the ATCO could indeed contribute as a platform for the system to benefit the whole region. She emphasized the conversations that had been held with the diplomatic mission of Guyana in Brazil, which had strengthened ATCO’s determination to take strong action on this theme.

As for the uneasiness shown by Venezuela and also by other countries, she recognized the obsolescence of the regulations, the gaps that existed and the difficulties these caused for ATCO, a situation of which the CCACC had been opportunely informed. For that reason she was grateful for Peru’s initiative, supported by Venezuela, Bolivia and other countries, in regard to the revision of those regulations. To address more specifically the question of the modality adopted by the PS in relation to the agreements that had been signed, she informed the meeting that they had been signed pursuant to the provisions set forth in Article IV if the same regulations which she quoted literally, “… according to the requirements set out in the Work Plan and the specific mandates that the Permanent Secretariat may have been given, it may sign agreements and make commitments with, and to, other countries, international bodies and other entities”.

The Secretary General put herself at the disposal of the other countries, should they so wish, to revise each of the agreements and stated that all of them are the result of mandates emanating from the Declaration of Manaus. The Secretary General also made it known that there had been an average of 1.5 meetings a month with the CCACC during the respective period and that the CCACC had been fully and totally informed of all the Secretariat’s activities, pointing out that all the minutes of the CCACC have been published on the Organization’s web page.
In relation to Bolivia’s worry, she finally added that in those cases in which the surety given by the countries implied a commitment of financial resources, there had been formal consultations with the Member States.

In regard to Surinam’s uneasiness concerning the eventual impact on the budget caused by the staff involved, the Secretary General explained that the PS/ATCO could not grow beyond its budgeting limitations. She further explained that the increase corresponded to the contracting of consultants by means of widely announced selection processes with the costs being debited to the cooperation projects in question. Thus the increase in the number of staff had not affected the budgeting of the Secretariat in any way.

On taking back the floor the Chairman of the meeting requested approval of the Activities Report of the Secretary General.

The Surinam delegate declared his integral support for the ATCO report.

The Peruvian delegate suggested that the work group proposed by the chairman of the meeting should study a Resolution that would foresee the creation of a Committee to deal with the specific theme of new regulations for the ATCO.

The Guyana delegate reminded the meeting that during the CCACC sessions it had been verified that a large number of regulations needed to be revised. For that reason she suggested that the proposed work group undertake a much wider revision and that it take in all the general themes and not limit itself to those aspects that had been brought up for consideration at the session in course.

The Venezuelan delegate supported the position of the Guyana delegate in the sense of a general revision of ATCO regulations. In regard to the Activities Report she requested that in the coming years the said document be presented to the member countries before being published in its final format.

The Brazilian delegate declared that the activities report was a document that was the entire responsibility of the Permanent Secretariat and did not require prior authorization from Member countries as that was not common practice in international bodies.

The Ecuador delegate expressed his agreement with the words of the Brazilian delegate.

Following that, the Secretary General explained that the said report also served as material to be disseminated and should be considered as such, pointing out that the same was in full agreement with the regulations in force and with the mandates emanating from the Declaration of Manaus. She added that there had not been a single partial activities report presented at each meeting of the CCACC that had not been approved and acclaimed by all the members, which could be proved on the ATCO web page.

The Peruvian delegate agreed with the words of the Brazilian delegate emphasizing that the Secretary General’s reports are monthly and that Dr. Rosalía Arteaga had kept the countries’ delegations totally and regularly informed of activities throughout the year. She further added that the reports had been approved with great goodwill.

The Guyana delegate suggested that the report be approved and that the comments be aggregated to it in the minutes of the meeting stressing that the activities report is a prerogative of the Secretary General’s and not subject to prior approval of the member countries. For that reason, the delegate suggested that the meeting pass to the approval of the same and make the reflections and comments of the delegates that had given rise to the discussion be recorded in the minutes. Brazil and Peru supported that intervention and Venezuela also supported the report and added that the agreement they had arrived at should be recorded in the minutes stressing the importance of a general revision of the regulations.

Finally the chairman of the meeting concluded by considering the Secretary General’s Activities Report to have been approved with, in second place, the observations added by the meeting that a work group should be set up to consider the reforming of the regulations of the Permanent Secretariat.
With that he reiterated that there were items on the agenda awaiting revision for which reason he suspended the plenary session and constituted a work group session conducted by Ambassador Antonio García Revilla, Sub-secretary for Multi-lateral Affairs.

3. REVISION OF THE THEMES RESULTING FROM THE VIII MEETING OF MINISTERS OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS

The themes resulting from the VIII Meeting of Ministers of Foreign Affairs concerning the proposal “Norms for Commercial Navigation on the River Systems of the Amazon Basin” as well as the proposal for incorporating observers in ATCO meetings were dealt with in the working group session.

4. CONSIDERATION OF THE DECLARATION OF IQUITOS PROJECT

The delegates of the ATCO member states, after a fruitful exchange of opinions and contributions to the document, agreed to approve a final version of the declaration of Iquitos Project to be forwarded for consideration by the IX Meeting of Chancellors of ATCO Member States and which is attached to the present minutes as Appendix III.

5. CONSIDERATION OF THE AMAZON CHARTER PROJECT

The delegates of the ATCO Member States decided to willingly accept the Amazon Charter Project presented by the Government of Peru and to open negotiations within the ACC that would lead to its being adopted to mark the twenty-fifth year of the ACT.

6. CONSIDERATION OF THE PROJECTS FOR RESOLUTIONS OF THE MEETING OF CHANCELLORS OF ATCO MEMBER STATES

The delegations present revised the projects for resolutions put before the XIII Meeting of the Amazon Cooperation Council — ACC which, after an intense and fruitful exchange, were duly adopted to be submitted for the consideration of the IX Meeting of Ministers of Foreign Affairs. The projects for the Resolutions are attached to the present minutes as Appendix IV.

At the request of the Brazilian Delegate, the ATCO Secretary General made references to the resolution that proposed the separation of the Coordinating bodies for Health and Indigenous Affairs informing the delegations as to the convenience of separating the said coordinating bodies, given the importance of the indigenous theme which was not restricted to health questions. She further added the proposal of making use of the availability of resources to meet the expenses of the post of Legal Advisor to the new coordinating body as the legal matters that involved the countries should be studied by the respective chancelleries whilst legal matters related to the functioning of the Permanent Secretariat had had to be dealt with by means of professional consultancy services.

At the request of the Columbian delegate, the intervention of the Secretary General regarding the resolution on the participation of observers was recorded in the present minutes insofar as the Permanent Secretariat, pursuant to the mandates received from the VIII Meeting of Ministers of Foreign Affairs, in December 2004, had put before the CCACC a preliminary document of proposals and criteria for the possible participation of observers in future ACTO meetings.

7. APPROVAL OF THE AGENDA FOR THE IX MEETING OF CHANCELLORS OF ATCO MEMBER STATES.

The XIII Meeting of the Amazon Cooperation Council ACC approved the project for the Agenda of the IX Meeting of Chancellors of ATCO Member States, which is attached to the present minutes as Appendix V.

The delegations welcomed the offer of the Republic of Ecuador to hold the III Summit Meeting of Presidents of ATCO Member States during the first six months of 2006.

9. PROPOSALS OF DATES AND VENUE FOR THE XIV MEETING OF THE AMAZON COOPERATION COUNCIL

The head of the delegation of the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela informed the meeting of her government's invitation for the XIV Meeting of the Amazon Cooperation Council to be held in Venezuela in the second half of 2006 preparatory to the X Meeting of Ministers of Foreign Affairs.

The Chairman of the meeting gave his thanks for the Venezuelan representative's offer and invited the delegates to present it to their Chancellors for consideration.

10. READING, APPROVAL AND SIGNING OF THE MINUTES OF THE XIII MEETING OF THE AMAZON COOPERATION COUNCIL.

The Chairman of the meeting, Ambassador Javier García Torróes, after the work established by the agenda had been finished, thanked the delegations present for their willingness and contributions and passed on to the reading of the present minutes. Finding themselves to be in agreement with the same, the Heads of Delegations have duly signed them in this city of Iquitos, Peru on the fifth day of November of the year two thousand and five.

On Behalf of the Republic of Bolivia
On Behalf of the Republic of Colombia
On Behalf of the Cooperative Republic of Guyana
On Behalf of the Republic of Suriname
On Behalf of the Federative Republic of Brazil
On Behalf of the Republic of Ecuador
On Behalf of the Republic of do Peru
On Behalf of the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela
In the city of Lima, Peru, on February 20 and 21 of the year 2006, the High Officers of Bolivia, Brazil, Colombia, Ecuador, Guyana, Peru, Suriname and Venezuela, Country Members of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty Organization (ACTO), gathered to hold the Extraordinary Meeting of the Amazon Cooperation Council.

The Delegations were chaired by: Ambassador María Luisa Ramos Urzagaste, Vice minister of Economic Relations and Foreign Trade of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Worship of Bolivia; Minister Clemente de Lima Baena Soares, Head of the South American Division II – DAM II, of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Brazil; Mr. Ricardo Montenegro Coral, Director of Territorial Sovereignty and Border Development of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Colombia; Ambassador Diego Stacey, Undersecretary of National Sovereignty and Border Development of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Ecuador; Marilyn C. Miles, Ambassador of Guyana in Brazil; Ambassador Antonio García Revilla, Undersecretary of Multilateral Affairs of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Peru; R.N.S. Hira, Ambassador of Suriname in Brazil; Minister Counselor Ilenia Medina, Director of Multilateral Affairs, of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Venezuela. The Permanent Secretariat of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty Organization was represented by the Secretary General, Ms. Rosalía Arteaga Serrano. The whole list of participants can be found in Annex I.

OPENING OF THE MEETING

In his opening remarks, the Chairman of the Meeting, Ambassador Antonio García Revilla expressed the satisfaction of the government and the Foreign Office of Peru with the attendance of the Delegations, which he welcomed. He underlined the importance of strengthening the spirit and the principles underlying the creation of the Treaty as a setting for cooperation and friendship, resulting in new elements that echo the reality and the challenges of the current international agenda: South American integration, social involvement, physical integration, preservation of biodiversity, development of biotechnology and sustainable management of forests, among others.

At the same time, he drew attention on the constructive spirit and the will to reach consensus that should drive the negotiations for the Amazonian Charter Project, submitted by Peru.

He then went on to read and put to consideration of the delegates the Agenda suggested, and he referred to the dynamics of the meeting, reporting on the request made by some delegations to include a subsection MISCELANEOUS, a proposal that was welcomed, and the Agenda was adopted with said incorporation.

Proceeding with the agenda, the Secretary General of ACTO took the floor, who while thanking the government and Foreign Office of Peru for the welcome, calling to and organization of the Extraordinary Session of the CCA, greeted with satisfaction the continuity of the works on the Amazonian Charter, in compliance with the mandates received from the Ministers of Foreign Affairs of Country Members, a reinforcing of ACTO, and a stressing of the relevance given by the countries to their relevant Amazonian regions. She finally wished everybody success in the deliberations and discussions adopted.

Next the chairman of the meeting gave the floor to the Delegations to listen to their first general remarks about the Amazonian Charter proposal, before proceeding to negotiate them.
In its intervention, the delegation of Brazil reported that the Brazilian Government supported the Amazonian Charter and that it had received orders from its Foreign Office, in the sense that this meeting should continue doing the required consultations so as to refine the text and move to sign it to the shortest delay possible.

The delegation from Peru stressed the importance of signing a policy document, 25 years after ACT, that allows for, at the international scene, and with no change to the general principles in the treaty, the reassertion and defense of the sovereignty of Amazonian countries, sending a message to the international community on how relevant it is for Amazonian countries, proposing a joint reflection on the challenges posed by sustainable development, in accordance to the mandates received from the Ministers of Foreign Affairs of ACTO Country Members.

When taking the floor, the delegation of Venezuela thanked the government of Peru for having facilitated the start of a process of reflection on the ACT. Next, he reported that CONAPER has organized several meetings to examine and study the Amazonian Charter, and he warns that some of the issues therein are not a part of the ACT, but the Government of Venezuela is ready to embark on a negotiation process, useful for strengthening the Treaty. Progress should be especially made in key issues, such as indigenous and autochthonous populations, as is the case within the framework of other international negotiations, as in the United Nations. He stressed that the negotiation process should take the required time, highlighting the spirit of cooperation of his government to have an Amazonian Charter.

The delegation of Bolivia, when taking the floor, extended a warm greeting to the attendants on behalf of President Evo Morales and of Minister of Foreign Affairs, Ambassador David Choquehuanca Céspedes. He moved on to make some remarks from his government to the Amazonian Charter proposed. The first, regarding the paragraph-based structure, that raises concerns given the various degrees of importance that should be allocated to the issues addressed by the Charter. He also referred to the strategic income concept, noting that not only should the commercial point of view be highlighted or the Amazonian region be only seen as a source of resources.

Likewise, as regards the defense perspective of the region, a more comprehensive vision should be adopted. At the same time, he indicated the existence of other extremely interesting issues for Amazonian countries, which should be underlined, such as culture and indigenous populations, recognizing the main role played by these actors.

In its speech, the delegation of Colombia welcomed the opportunity to resume the work made at Iquitos and to rethink the interests of Country Members on a shared region. The delegation raised concerns and posed questions regarding the work currently done by CCOOR or the one that should be entrusted to it. Nevertheless, it underlined the willingness of its government to contribute in a discussion giving the region and especially its communities the peace of mind of having such an instrument as the Amazonian Charter.

In its intervention, the delegation of Guyana thanked the government and the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Peru for the welcome and organization of the meeting. It underlined the relevance of the review of the Amazonian Charter, given the changing situation of the environment after 25 years of validity of the ACT.

At the same time, it requested some key issues be incorporated, namely: granting a greater relevance to stakeholders, as indigenous communities, which in Guyana have dramatically increased over the last 25 years, and have obtained — in a recent law — the recognition as citizens with full rights. Secondly, it referred to the need of addressing, in a declaration dealing with the future, the Amazonian youth, as has been doing the Permanent Secretariat of ACTO, through mechanisms as the Expeditions for young people. Another issue, already addressed by the Minister of Foreign Affairs of Guyana since the meeting in Manaus, relates to the need of having a direct financing strategy, as many of the initiatives suggested require additional funds that the Parties are not capable of contributing. Finally, it addressed the need to underline the cooperation and integration among Andean countries and sub regions, Amazonian plain and the Guyana shield.
AMAZONIAN CHARTER DISCUSSION AND NEGOTIATION SESSION

When thanking the first general remarks made by the delegations and moving on with the Agenda, the Chairman read the Amazonian Charter proposal, to which the amendments were introduced, that the delegations considered being relevant, and which after a wide, proactive and enriching exchange of ideas, resulted in the text appearing as Annex II.

After discussing the text, the Chairman of the session moved on to recapitulate outstanding issues, so that the delegates can work them in their capitals.

In the preamble to the Amazonian Charter, he stressed four outstanding issues. The first deals with the institutionalization of ACTO, requesting Ambassador Hernan Couturier to prepare a draft text to be sent to the delegations of other countries, and that a new text be prepared in Brasilia by the Ambassadors, following the instructions from their capitals.

The second issue is the term “spirit of democracy and solidarity” of Amazonian countries, the inclusion of which was requested by Venezuela.

The third issue refers to the use of the terms “conservation” and “preservation”. Whereas the Delegation of Brazil favors the first, embodied in the Rio Conference of 92, Venezuela favors the second, adopted in the original text of ACT. In that sense, the Delegate from Guyana noted that in the English version of the Treaty, the term “conservation” is used.

The forth issue, at the end of the preamble, refers to two paragraphs on the threats and challenges, requesting the Delegations of Colombia and Venezuela to further the discussions to decide if that paragraph will be included or not.

In the operative part of the text, the Chairman lists the paragraphs still requiring negotiation:

Paragraph 3 contains the issue of the full sovereignty, which Brazil requested to put between square brackets.

About paragraph 4, on comprehensive security, the Delegation of Colombia expressed its inconvenience to accept the proposal made by Venezuela, stressing the need to keep discussing the subject, requesting that the original proposal be kept between square brackets.

In paragraph 8, the Delegation of Venezuela reported that it will make consultations, especially regarding the encouragement of the Amazonian populations’ participation.

Paragraphs 10 and 11 will be submitted to consultation, at the request of Colombia and Brazil, respectively.

There was no consensus for paragraph 22, submitted by Ecuador, which will be put to discussion.

That concludes the text review, with the removal of subheadings.

MISCELANEOUS

Before moving on to the closing part of the meeting, the Chairman of the session gives the floor to the Delegate of Ecuador, who reported that his government intends to organize the Summit of Amazonian Presidents in a city in the Ecuadorian Amazonia and proposes as alternative dates May 29 and 30 or June 1 and 2.

The Delegation of Venezuela put forward the issue of the Expedition “Discovering Amazonia — ACTO and Youth — Paths of Orellana” expressing its concern on inviting a country not member of the Treaty, and questioning on why the same invitation was not addressed to other South American countries, highlighting the need to consult Country Members on such issues.
As regards the Expedition mentioned, the General Secretariat of ACTO read aloud the note verbale addressed to Venezuela regarding the fact that the youth in French Guiana share the Amazonian biome and explained the relevance of the Project, as well as the difficulties and the need to have the support of several players to ensure the initiative’s success. It also highlighted the fact that, since the Manaus meeting, the entry of France as an observer is discussed, and in that meeting the possibility was also raised to conduct an expedition, which could not be done in the year 2005. Additionally, there are logistics constraints in terms of the number of young people and the capacity of the ship that will make the journey through the Napo River, a reason for which the young people of other countries outside the region could not be invited. The General Secretariat of ACTO stated the possibility of inviting youths from French Guiana in case Venezuela so determines. It emphasized that decisions are not taken by the General Secretariat, but by the team made up of officers from various Amazon countries.

Added to the considerations raised by Venezuela was the statement by the Delegate of Colombia, and the Delegate of Suriname differed, considering it incorrect to exclude the young people of the French Guiana, as the territory is an integral part of Amazonia. All other Delegations supported the decision to invite French Guiana, stressing the remarkable work done by the Permanent Secretariat in leading the expedition mentioned.

Lastly, at the request of the delegation of Colombia, the General Secretariat of ACTO summarized the current status of the expedition project, listing the support received from private companies, research institutions, government organizations, communication networks from Amazon countries. With that, the Delegations were invited to participate together with the Ministries of Education, in order to ensure their active involvement in the selection process of the young expeditionaries.

READING, ADOPTION AND ENDORSEMENT OF THE MINUTES TO THE EXTRAORDINARY MEETING OF THE AMAZON COOPERATION COUNCIL

Once completed the work established in the agenda, the Chairman of the Meeting, Ambassador Antonio Garcia Revilla, greeted with satisfaction the willingness and contributions on the part of the delegations present, after which it was announced that the Minutes for this extraordinary session will be adopted and signed in the next meeting.

The Extraordinary Session of the Amazon Cooperation Council (ACC) was held on 02 July 2007 at the headquarters of the Permanent Secretariat of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty Organization in Brasilia-DF, Brazil.

The delegations were headed by the following representatives: Ambassador Pablo Guzmán, Vice-Minister for Economic Relations and Foreign Trade of Bolivia; Ambassador Enio Cordeiro, Head of the South America Division of the Federative Republic of Brazil; Ambassador Mario Galofre Cano, Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary of the Republic of Colombia; Ambassador Eduardo Mora-Anda, Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary of the Republic of Ecuador; Ambassador Marilyn Cheryl Miles, Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary of the Cooperative Republic of Guyana; Minister César De las Casas, Business Attaché a.i., Embassy of the Republic of Peru; Ambassador Mavis Demon-Belgraef, Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary of the Republic of Suriname; Ambassador July José Garcia Montoya, Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary of the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela; and on behalf of ACTO, by Dr. Francisco José Ruiz Marmolejo, Executive Director of ACTO. The complete list of Delegates can be found in Annex I of this Minute.

OPENING OF THE SESSION

The Head of the Brazilian Delegation, Ambassador Enio Cordeiro, in the quality of Chairman of the panel, thanked the delegations of the member countries of ACTO for their presence in the meeting and informed them of the unfortunate demise of the Ambassador of Bolivia, Mr. Felipe Tredinnick. The Chairman praised his work as a diplomat committed to fostering bilateral relations between Brazil and Bolivia and dedicated to Amazonian causes, as well as his work as Head of the Bolivian Embassy to Brazil. He then gave the floor to the Head of the Bolivian Delegation, Vice-Minister Pablo Guzmán, who thanked the Chairman for his words and invited the delegations to the farewell acts prior to the transfer of the coffin of Ambassador Tredinnick to Bolivia.

The Amazon Cooperation Council made a tribute, during the meeting, to the memory of the Ambassador, who occupied in Brasilia the presidency of the Coordinating Commission of The Amazon Cooperation Council at beginnings of 2007, including a resolution (in annex) that raises its contribution to the objectives of the Treaty.

APPROVAL OF THE AGENDA TO THE EXTRAORDINARY SESSION TO THE CCA

The draft agenda of the meeting was submitted to the delegations for consideration and was approved without objections. The meeting immediately moved on to the third point of the agenda.

NOMINATIONS FOR THE POSITION OF SECRETARY GENERAL OF ACTO

The Chairman of the panel informed the group of the candidacies of Ambassador Hernán Couturier and Senator Maria Esther Udaeta presented by the governments of Peru and Bolivia respectively.

He declared that there have so far been two manifestations of support, one for each candidacy, the Delegation of Venezuela had manifested its support to the candidacy of Bolivia, the Senator Maria Esther Udaeta. This situation makes it impossible to make a unanimous recommendation to the Chancellors of the Member Countries. The Chairman thanked for the managing of Secretary General, Dr. Rosalía Arteaga and proposed that until August 29 the position of Secretary General of ACTO be held temporarily by the current Executive Director, Dr. Francisco José Ruiz Marmolejo.

He furthermore urged the delegations to make every effort so that their respective Chancelleries manifest their preference for one of the candidacies presented so far, or for any other that might be presented until then, no later than August 28. He then gave the floor to the delegations.

The Head of the Bolivian delegation manifested his agreement with the proposal for having an Interim Secretary until August 29 and supported the Chairman’s suggestion of insisting that the Chancelleries take a stance on the subject. The Peruvian delegate declared to agree with both delegations.

The Head of the Delegation of Guyana, Ambassador Marilyn Miles, manifested her support to the Brazilian proposal and to the manifestations of Bolivia and Peru. She declared that in the case of Guyana, the President and Chancellor have been away from the country participating in meetings of CARICOM in Barbados and have therefore not had the chance to study the case. She declared to be certain, however, that they will now have time to dedicate themselves to this important issue and will have taken a stance before the established date.

The Head of the delegation of Ecuador, Ambassador Eduardo Mora-Anda, agreed to have the Executive Director of ACTO exercise as interim Secretary General and urged the parties to make an effort to reach a consensus in order to strengthen the organization. He reminded the participants that it is important that this consensus incorporates an equitable distribution of the governing positions within ACTO so that all of the member countries are represented therein.

The Chairman announced to the delegates that in accordance to the regulations that apply to ACC meetings, he had appointed the Heads of the delegations of Guyana, Colombia and Venezuela to, together with the Presidency, report the draft resolutions prior to their formal approval by the Plenary.

Since there were no further recommendations the meeting moved on the fourth point of the agenda.

ACTO/PS BUDGET FOR 2007 (DOC/III.-EXTRAORDINARY SESSION-ACC-ACTO-06)

The Chairman of the panel declared that the document of the Budget for 2007 distributed to the delegations complies with the format and guidelines approved by the Chancellors of the member countries through Resolution RESVIII-07 during the Eighth Meeting of Ministers held in Manaus in September 2004. He further stated that the document has received various suggestions from the member delegations of the CCOOR during various meetings in the sense of improving its format to better reflect the available resources, not just budgetary funds originating from member country contributions, but also extra-budgetary funds coming from various cooperation agencies.

The Chairman then gave the floor to the Administrative Director of ACTO, Dr. Flavio Sottomayor for his presentation and explanation.

Upon presenting the general status of country contributions, the Administrative Director availed himself of the opportunity to thank the Government of Colombia for the payment of the 2007 contribution and to emphasize to the country delegates the need to pay pending contributions as soon as possible. He mentioned the difficulties that ACTO is encountering to comply with its obligations as a result of inflation and especially devaluation of the dollar, which require immediate action by the Member Countries.

He informed the participants that ACTO has had a 47.71% depreciation in the budget from January 2004 until March 2007. In addition, he reported on the savings measures implemented by ACTO in order to reduce costs, including telephony and general expenses, and pointed to the need of purchasing a popular car for routine activities as well as a representation vehicle for the next Secretary General. He furthermore declared that ACTO has switched banks, having found one that offers better services at zero fees.

Regarding the salaries, he stated that on occasion of the AAC Meeting held in Caracas (4-5 April 2000), the total amount to be contributed by the member countries, together with a corresponding per country percentage thereof, was established at US$1,139,600. The wages and benefits of the Secretary General, Governing Body and Coordinators, which total 48% of the budget, were determined during the Sixth CCOOR Meeting held 11 March 2003 in Brasilia. The Organization is doing everything it can to function normally with the budget available.

The Administrative Director further informed that the ACTO budget has been complemented with conservative and safe investments in reais and in dollars in order to face the situation. He also mentioned the financial resources managed by ACTO for the coordinating offices, with resources from cooperation funds and with projects being carried out with various institutions.

After the explanation of the budget the debate was opened to the delegations.

The Chairman thanked the Administrative Director for presenting the budget and began the debate by saying that his government had manifested the will to approve the budget as presented in terms of the revenues and expenditures decided upon by the Chancellors. He mentioned the various sessions in which the CCOOR discussed the methodology used to setup the budget and that led to various recommendations made by the Brazilian delegation to improve the format of its presentation. He mentioned the budgetary expenditures resulting from the contributions of the member countries, the investments made by the Permanent Secretariat and the overhead revenues related to the projects developed by the organization, as well as the extra budgetary resources coming from projects developed with ABC, the World Wildlife Foundation, IDB, UNEP, WB, the Gordon and Betty Moore Foundation, and others used in programs but not managed by the Organization, and that amount to approximately US$ 3,100,000.00. The fact is that the contributions of the member countries represent less than 20% of the total, and the budget approved by the member countries is not very programmatic at all, considering these are administrative expenses. In this situation it is important to consider two aspects:

1. Whether the Organization is working with budgetary resources approved and paid for by the member countries that are compatible with the needs of the Organization,

2. To what extent do the existing budgetary checks provide a clear view of all the resources that are used and of the activities carried out using the brand and sponsorship of the Organization?

As a result, he suggested that the ACC approve the presented budget and that a request is presented to ACTO/PS to elaborate a proposal for the revision of the financial and administrative management instrument so that in the future the budget is presented in such a manner as to provide a panoramic overview of the budgetary and extra-budgetary resources, including a full description of their use. This new budget format would then be submitted to Ministers for approval.

With regards to the adaptation of the resources originating from the contributions of the member countries, he suggested that these be reconsidered using realistic criteria that takes into account the possibilities of each member country and gives back to ACTO the purchasing power that it had in April 2002, when the annual amount was established at US$ 1,139,600.00. This review would be submitted to an ACC meeting and then to the Chancellors.

After his presentation he gave the floor to the Head of the Bolivian Delegation who, in response to the Chairman’s declaration of the need to approve the budget in order to allow the Permanent Secretariat to continue its activities, suggested that the first mission of the new Secretary General should be to review the budget and its strategic lines.
He also stated that Bolivia is concerned with the delay in the payment of the contributions, mentioning that participation in various international organizations has a high cost for Bolivia. He declared his approval of the budget, but called attention to the fact that the country contributions have suffered 40% devaluation and that the alternatives and options to correct this situation must be analyzed.

The Head of the delegation of Colombia requested the floor to manifest the support of his government to the approval of the budget with three important recommendations:

1. There is an urgent need to strongly urge the countries to pay their dues;

2. Upon preparing a new budget, the financial experts of ACTO need to define exactly how much the contributions need to be increased in order to recover the purchasing power of the Organization that was programmed in 2004.

3. It is necessary to define the rules for the programmatic budget.

The Peruvian Delegate, Minister Cesar De las Casas, considered it important to approve the budget that same day, modifying the procedures for its elaboration in order to make progress and so that it can be dealt with at a higher level in the Meeting of Chancellors scheduled for the end of August. He suggested that haste be made upon working on the recommendation of the Brazilian delegation.

The head of the Delegation of Venezuela manifested his support and declared that considering the current problems, the budget must be increased in order to compensate for the devaluation of the dollar. Nevertheless, since the idea is to re-establish purchasing power with some adjustments, it is important to keep in mind that the budget is strictly for administrative expenses. Adjusting the budget for operating expenses would imply in even greater contributions and this would not be viable. The great question is how the Organization has been able to function by covering operating expenses with other sources of funding without creating new resources. This would be object of the ACC, since the presentation of the budget was determined by the ACC. He finished by saying that Venezuela supports an increase in the contributions, but with the above-mentioned reservation.

The member of the Ecuadorian Delegation, Councilor Alvaro García, pointed out that in general lines his country agrees with the other countries in what the initial budget is concerned. He urged the participants to consider that only 20% of the portfolio of ACTO is financed by the countries and that there is effectively a need to substantially increase the budgets of the countries. If this is not possible, due to the different realities of the countries involved and to concerns such as that manifested by Bolivia, it is necessary to review the contributions in their original form respecting the percentages established for each country. He emphasized the need to develop a more complete and concrete relation between the programmatic and the administrative budgets in order to provide a clearer idea of the resources obtained as well as to show that part of the programmatic resources are financing part of the administrative expenditures.

The Head of the Guyanese Delegation, upon taking the floor, pointed out that in the case of her country, Guyana has always made an effort to pay its dues on time. Not because of the low monetary amount, since it represents a high percentage, but because the country considers the Organization very important and deserving of this attention. She further stated that it has always been difficult for the countries to pay their contributions at the same time and that before considering the consequences of the currency devaluation the delegations should insist with their governments on the importance of paying their contributions to ACTO on a timely basis.

As a second point, she reminded the participants that ACTO has all of its coordinators for the first time and that these people left their countries with their families and should have their expenses paid for by ACTO in order to be able to fulfill their duties as coordinators. Regarding the contributions and what should be done about the devaluation, she stated that this issue needs to be further examined, as it is the case not only of ACTO but of the embassies as well. The situation requires further consideration in order to find an ideal and more austere solution. Those in charge of the administration must work to find an alternative and present it during the Ministerial Meeting. Finally, she approved the suggestion for the budget, pointing to the comment made by the delegate of Ecuador in the sense that it is not easy to cover operating expenditures with programmatic expenditures.

In his final comment the Chairman declared that it would be preferable to approve the budget and prepare a new proposal taking into account the various points discussed during the meeting for the 2008 budget. He pointed out that like the other delegations Brazil does not consider it bad for the Organization to manage extra budgetary resources, but that there needs to be a greater level of reporting and control regarding these resources as well as a way to ensure that an excessive dependence on these external funding sources is not developed.

ACTO/PS 2007-2008 PLAN OF ACTION (DOC/III.-EXTRAORDINARY SESSION-ACC-ACTO-05)

Upon moving on to this part of the agenda, the Chairman, Ambassador Enio Cordeiro, considered that because the Plan of Action had already been the object of exhaustive study by the PNCs there was no need for a formal presentation of its content. He pointed out that the ACC is responsible for approving the document and that its content had been extensively debated by the CCOR. He referred to the last meeting in which a working group was formed to examine the document. This group considered the Plan of Action and evolving document that will be perfected as it incorporates the contributions of the Member States and the experience and practice of the Permanent Secretariat. He suggested that the ACC consider the possibility of approving the Plan of Action as is.

He also suggested that the next presentations of the budget be clearly correlated to the broad lines and budget items of the Plan of Action and that the CCOR studies the implementation of the Plan on a permanent basis using the document as a reference and improving it on a continuous basis.

The delegate of Bolivia took the floor and manifested his support to the considerations of Brazil. He proposed that the budget should be approved incorporating the observations made by the Chairman as well as two others that would foster the evolution of said document.

1. Link the activities and the resources invested in them so that there is a clearer idea of the practical feasibility of the Plan of Action;

2. Place a greater emphasis on results. Upon analyzing the Plan it seems that some activities derive from results that require another plan to be achieved. This could be improved by including concrete criteria for results to be presented in the final reports and by presenting specific progress on the strategic lines.

The delegate of Peru agreed with Bolivia, regarding the need to link the budget to the Plan in an integrated document where it is possible to see the connection. This would facilitate matters at a higher political level as it would present greater precision regarding the relation between the financial obligations of the Member States and the objectives to be achieved through the Plan of Action. The delegate of Guyana agreed with the previous declarations adding that there are many good ideas, but without funds it will be impossible to carry out the Plan of Action. She pointed to the need of taking into account the asymmetries within and between the countries, since some countries are more developed than others.

Once point 4 of the agenda was concluded, the Chairman submitted the next point of the agenda to the consideration of the delegations.

OTHER TOPICS

EXTRAORDINARY MEETING OF THE AMAZON COOPERATION COUNCIL
(Brasilia, Brazil, September 26, 2007)

The Extraordinary Session of the Amazon Cooperation Council (CCA) was held on September 2007 at the headquarters of the Permanent Secretariat of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty Organization in Brasilia-DF, Brazil.

The meeting was chaired by Ambassador Enio Cordeiro, Head of the South America Division, and the heads of the delegations were presided by the following representatives: Minister Counselor Pedro Gumucio, Business Attaché a.i. of the Embassy of Bolivia; Minister Clemente Baena Soares, Head of the Meridional America II Division of the Brazilian Ministry of Foreign Affairs; Mr. Mario Galofre Cano, Ambassador of Colombia; Eduardo Mora-Anda, Ambassador of Ecuador; Marilyn Cheryl Miles, Ambassador of Guyana; Hugo De Zela Martínez, Ambassador of Peru; Mavis Demon-Belgraeuf, Ambassador of Suriname; Julio José García Montoya, Ambassador of Venezuela, and on behalf of ACTO, by Secretary General a.i., Francisco Ruiz Marmolejo. The complete list of attending Delegates can be Annex I of these Minutes.

OPENING OF THE SESSION

Prior to the plenary session, the Heads of the Delegations met in private.

Upon beginning the Extraordinary Session of the ACC, the Chairman of the panel thanked the delegations of the Member Countries of ACTO for their presence and submitted the draft agenda to their consideration. The agenda was immediately approved and the meeting moved on the last point of the agenda, namely:

SUCCESSION PROCESS AND INTERIM POSITION OF SECRETARY GENERAL TO ACTO

In accordance to the prior consultations held with the heads of the delegations, the Chairman proposed for a single resolution to be issued from the meeting extending the interim mandate of Mr. Francisco Ruiz Marmolejo as Secretary General of the Organization until 31 October 2007, when a new ACC meeting will be convened.

The head of the Peruvian delegation formally manifested the concern of his government with the prolonged temporally mandate, a situation that damages the Organization by hindering its progress and ability to fully develop its capacities and potential. He asked the delegates to aim at this being the last extension of the interim mandate and to make every possible effort to put an end to this situation.

The Head of Venezuela delegation supported the motion of the Peruvian delegation and urged the Interim Secretary to take advantage of this period to undertake an exhaustive review of the pending instruments, such as the budget and internal regulations of the organization, so that the process is well advance when the new Secretary General takes office.

Once interventions were finish and there no being no objections on behalf of the delegations, the Chairman submitted to the consideration of the participants the resolution that extends the Interim mandate of the Executive Director, Dr. Francisco Ruiz Marmolejo, as the Secretary General of ACTO (The Resolutions is found in the Annex).

The Secretary General a.i. requested the floor to register, in name of Permanent Secretariat, the dedication, professionalism and commitment demonstrate by all staff of PS/ACTO, including the sectorial and project coordinators as well as the administrative and support staff, during the three month of his mandate. He declared the studies and reports develop by them and presented during the Meeting of the Coordinating Commission of the Amazon Cooperation Council (CCOOR) are a clear testimony to ACTO’s compliance with the commitments assumed with the governments and with third parties, for with the Secretary General expressed his heartfelt thanks. He furthermore assured the delegations that this feeling is shared by all the members of the ACTO Permanent Secretariat.

Nevertheless he expressed his concern regarding the financial situation of the Permanent Secretariat, pointing out that to date, the contributions received for the period of 2007 have covered only 20% of the total budget, in spite of which the PS/ACTO has managed to own up to its commitments and keep the Organization functioning with a complete staff. However, resources that were set aside and that have thus far made it possible for ACTO to function normally will only last until the end of the year, at which point it will became necessary to take emergency measure such as taking a bank loan or reducing costs with personnel, including support staff and coordinators. As such reasons, he urged the governments, through the delegates of the CCA, to pay their contributions in the shortest term possible.

Once the interim Secretary General finished the intervention and there being no further comments by the Members Countries, the Chairman of the Extraordinary Session of the ACC declared the session closed. The present Minutes were signed on 26 September 2007 in Brasilia, in four copies, in Spanish, Portuguese, Dutch and English.

The delegations were headed by Their Excellencies; José Alberto González Samaniego, Ambassador to Brazil of the Plurinational State of Bolivia; Minister Clemente Baena Soares, Director of the Department of South America II of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Brazil; Ambassador Alejandro Borda, Chief of the Office of Territorial Sovereignty and Border Development of the Republic of Colombia; Minister Miguel Vasco, of the Embassy of the Republic of Ecuador in Brazil; Mr. Harry Narine Nawbatt, Ambassador to Brazil of the Cooperative Republic of Guyana; Minister Luis Arribasplata, Consul General of Peru in Rio de Janeiro; Mr. Robby Ramlakhan, Ambassador, responsible for the subject of OTCA within the Ministry of Foreign Relations of the Republic of Suriname; and Mr. Maximilien Arvelaez, Ambassador to Brazil of the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela. In addition, SP/OTCA was represented by Ambassador Manuel Picasso, General Secretary, Ambassador Mauricio Dorfler, Executive Director, and Mr. Flavio Sottomayor, Administrative Director. The complete list of delegates and auxiliaries may be found as Appendix I of these Proceedings.

The subjects of the meeting were:

COMMERCIAL NAVIGATION ON THE AMAZON RIVERS

The plenary received a report on suggestions produced at the Meeting on Commercial Navigation on International Rivers of the Amazon, held in the city of Rio de Janeiro from May 12-13, 2010. After consideration, the Plenary approved the suggestions and called for Member Countries to designate delegates who will comprise the Working Group created at this time, in order to lend continuity to negotiations. The suggestions approved are in Appendix 2. The delegation from Colombia confirmed its offer to provide a venue for the next meeting of the Working Group treating this theme in the city of Bogotá.

CRITERIA FOR A NEW 2011 BUDGET PROJECT AND A NEW ORGANIZATIONAL CHART PROJECT OF SP/OTCA

The Members of the Council agreed regarding the budgetary difficulties of SP/OTCA, which are the fruit of the loss of value of the quotas of approximately 70%, having been caused by losses related to variation in the value of the type of exchange and to inflation. It was recognized the discussion of the organizational structure of SP/OTCA is linked to budgetary availability, and for this reason this discussion depends on the solution of financial limitations. At the same time, definition of the necessary budget is related to the mandates granted to SP/OTCA, while these in turn are linked to the role to be defined by Member Countries. In this regard, the importance was recognized of having an organization that is efficient and result-oriented.

At the same time, the Members of the Council recognized the presence of an emergency situation that demands that efforts be made in order to encounter a short-term solution. With this end in mind, it was suggested that an Ad Hoc Working Group be established, made up of the Focal Points of the Chancelleries, in order to explore alternatives to be proposed to CCA. In addition, it was agreed that among the options for confronting financial limitations are: (a) that the payment of pending quotas be facilitated; (b) that internal consultations begin in order to consider the up-dating of the value of quotas beginning in 2012 at the latest; (c) to examine the current organizational chart of PS/ACTO and to consider a reorganization of the same, and (c) that the possibility be explored to provide for special contributions until the basic problem is resolved. As an input to the process for justification of the increase in the value of quotas, SP/OTCA was requested to develop the pertinent documentation.

GUIDELINES FOR RELATIONS WITH INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION

The Council recognized the relevance of cooperation for the functioning of the organization, and expressed its interest in strengthening its relations with cooperating sources and at the same time in clarifying the same. The Council carried out an analysis of proposals for guidelines for the relation with international cooperation and of the Resolution project that regulates procedures, mechanisms, and terms for the consideration, negotiation, and subscription of agreement proposals between the Permanent Secretariat and third countries, international organizations, and other entities.

The Members of the Council expressed the various aspects that they consider necessary to be recorded in the instruments presented, and concluded with approval of the agreed upon text presented in Appendix 3.

The Council recognized the difficult situation that is facing PS/ACTO because of its fragile financial situation and expressed its concern that resources are received from cooperation sources, including those for covering current expenses.

It emphasized that SP/OTCA has continued to present detailed information about the projects that receive resources from international cooperation, and the Council recommended that reports that describe the projects and their status continue to be sent to Member Countries.

BASIC WORKING DOCUMENT FOR THE NEW STRATEGIC AGENDA OF AMAZONIAN COOPERATION

The Council received the base document that had been previously presented in the Workshop on Exchange of Experience of the Focal Points of the Ministries of Foreign Relations Responsible to OTCA. The delegates expressed their congratulations to SP/OTCA for preparation of the document and for the beginning of the process, considered it to be a point of departure for the strategic future of the organization. The delegates of Member Countries shall send their complementary comments by next June 21 at the latest, and SP/OTCA shall consolidate these comments and distribute them among the cited Focal Points.

In order to lend continuity to the process of building a strategic agenda, the Council decided that the above-mentioned Ad Hoc Working Group shall prepare an adjusted proposal for consideration at the next Ordinary Meeting of the CCA. The base document may be found in Appendix 4.

PROJECT OF NEW REGULATIONS

Moreover, the Council decided that, through the Ad Hoc Working Group of the CCOOR, SP/OTCA shall continue to work on the up-dating of the five regulations currently in effect. In this sense, it was agreed that Member Countries shall, before June 21, send their comments and initial points of view based on the forms distributed previously by SP/OTCA.

ADMINISTRATIVE – FINANCIAL INSTRUMENT PROJECT

A preliminary document was presented on the theme, and it was decided that Member Countries shall send their comments on the proposed contents to SP/OTCA. Moreover, SP/OTCA shall work on a document and will circulate a revised version.
OTHER SUBJECTS

The Council took note of an invitation from Suriname for a meeting of specialists of Member Countries of the OTCA on the REDD+ theme before the next Conference of Parties to the CMNUCC to be held in Mexico. To this end, it will send the corresponding communications, using formal channels, and requested the technical support of SP/OTCA.

The Delegation of Bolivia distributed to Members of the Council a document entitled Agreement of Peoples produced at the World Conference of Peoples on Climate Change and the Rights of Mother Earth. It expressed its interest in participating in the meeting that will be called by Suriname. The Council expressed its congratulations to the Government of Bolivia for having held the above-cited event.

The General Secretary of OTCA thanked the delegations for their presence, as well as expressing his thanks, on behalf of the Permanent Secretariat of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty Organization, to the Government of Brazil for its offer to host these meetings and for the attention it provided.

Upon completion of the Special Meeting of CCA, the delegations expressed their appreciation and congratulations to the Government of Brazil and the Permanent Secretariat for the excellent organization of this meeting and the kindness received by all Council members.

It was decided that the Amazon Cooperation Council shall hold its XIV Ordinary Session in the city of Lima, Peru, tentatively in November, which shall precede the tenth Meeting of Ministers of Foreign Affairs.

CONSIDERING:

The need to promote the institutional strengthening and improvement of the cooperation process within the framework of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty Organization – ACTO, by reviewing the regulations that exist in the different bodies and spheres of the Organization;

The attributions and competences of the Secretary General of ACTO, especially those concerning numeral I and in paragraph 3 of numeral II of the Amendment to the Amazon Cooperation Treaty, as well as the applicable regulations;

The Guidelines for relation between the Amazon Cooperation Treaty Organization and the International Cooperation attached to this Resolution

The need to establish procedures, mechanisms and terms for the consideration, negotiation and subscription of agreement proposals between the Permanent Secretariat and third countries, international organizations or other entities.

RESOLVES:

1. Agreement proposals can be presented at the initiative of one or more Contracting Parties or any sphere of the Treaty or of the Permanent Secretariat, in compliance with its mandates.

2. For each agreement initiative with third countries, international organizations and other entities, the Permanent Secretariat will prepare and submit to the Contracting Parties a Conceptual Note including inter alia the following information: origin of the initiative, purpose, rationale, objectives and targets, area of action within the framework of the Strategic Plan and Plan of Action in force, counterpart and executing entity, duration, modality, sources of funding and resources considered and requested.

Whenever the agreement being proposed does not concern a third country and/or international organization, the Conceptual Note will also include the following information: legal nature of the entity, source of funding, administrative headquarters, objectives and purpose, experience in the area that is the object of the agreement. The information contained in this Conceptual Note can be expanded at the request of any of the Contracting Parties.

The Conceptual Note shall be presented to the Contracting Parties for consideration in the four official languages of the Treaty: Spanish, Portuguese, English and Dutch.

3. The Conceptual Note will be presented to the Member Countries, who will dispose of sixty (60) calendar days from the day of its receipt to submit their observations and suggestions or inform their agreement.

Once this deadline is over and unless an objection is interposed, ACTO/PS, responsible for the negotiation process, will inform the Member Countries of the status of the process and will improve the projects by incorporating the suggestions and recommendations presented by them.
4. Once the process of adapting the technical and administrative documents is concluded, ACTO/PS will submit them to the Member Countries for consideration. The Member Countries will then have a maximum period of ninety (90) calendar days from the date of delivery to pronounce themselves. The documents will then be drafted in the four official languages of the Treaty: Spanish, Portuguese, English and Dutch.

5. In order for the agreements signed by the Secretary General to be backed by a consensus between the Member Countries, these must make explicit their position in compliance with the terms established in numerals 3 and 4 of the present Resolution. If a Member Country considers that 90 days is not enough, exceptionally it can request an extension thereof up to thirty (30) calendar days.

PROPOSED GUIDELINES FOR RELATIONS BETWEEN THE AMAZON COOPERATION TREATY ORGANIZATION AND THE INTERNATIONAL

CONSIDERING:

The need to count with clear guidelines for relations with the international cooperation as a mechanism to grant greater transparency to the management of resources by the Permanent Secretariat of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty Organization;

That signing formal agreements with the cooperation agencies will provide access to all administrative information on resources of existing projects;

The need to establish directives for the PS and the Member Countries that make it possible to coordinate and oversee the execution of regional programs and projects;

The importance of ensuring coordinated actions between the Coordinators and external consultants performing functions with a view to a work methodology that allows the Area Coordinators to participate in the process of preparing agreement or project proposals;

The need to facilitate decisions within ACTO to implement projects financed by cooperation agencies;

The mandate given to the Permanent Secretariat to conduct a study in coordination with the Member Countries to assess possible sources of funding from the countries themselves in order to overcome ACTO's dependence on foreign financing in developing its strategic projects.

DECIDES:

1. All projects executed under the name of ACTO must be managed and controlled by the Permanent Secretariat so long as it has the necessary technical staff and signed Cooperation Agreements to do so.

2. All financial resources must, inasmuch as possible, be transferred to ACTO, or if this is not possible, be included in the budget. This will allow the PS to report to the CCOOR periodically or whenever requested on the use of said resources.

3. Ensure that all project and agreement proposals with third countries and/or international organizations should include an indication of the number of consultants that will be employed for the execution of the program or project, as well as detail their work relations with the Area Coordinators.
4. No external consultant or representative of an international organization or other entity connected to ACTO through cooperation projects or agreements may participate in international meetings or forums as an official ACTO representative. Should his/her participation prove necessary, then accreditation should occur in representation of the cooperation agency or as external consultant.

5. In order to foster the development and wellbeing of the Amazonian populations, ACTO will seek to include a “social clause” in projects negotiated with international cooperation agencies that allows a percentage of the total funds to be derived to other projects that require them, to the extent possible and in compliance with the standards of the cooperating parties.

6. Each Area Coordinator will be directly responsible for the projects on behalf of the PS and will count with the support of consultants, experts and technical staff appointed by the cooperation agency. Should it be necessary to hire a technical or scientific expert, priority will be given to professionals of the Member Countries, preferably from universities and research and teaching institutions of the Amazon Region. This contract will be done in coordination with the Ministries of Foreign Affairs, as appropriate.

7. In order to achieve greater transparency in the administration of funds from cooperation projects all information thereon must be made available to the Member Countries, Area Coordinators and cooperation entity.

8. The PS must seek to identify new funding options in accordance with the priorities established by the Member Countries and in consultation with them.

9. All programs, projects and initiatives that involve international cooperation must incorporate a communication and dissemination component in order to guarantee access to their respective selection processes by Party Country citizens. They must also include procedures to make their results public so as to give greater visibility to the Organization.

10. Regarding the international cooperation the PS shall adhere to the provisions of Paragraph Three of Article 2 of the Protocol of Amendment to the Amazon Cooperation Treaty

11. The Permanent Secretariat must be given the necessary conditions for the conduction of a study to assess possible sources of funding from the countries themselves in order to overcome the Organization’s dependence on foreign financing in developing its strategic projects.
The 14th Ordinary Meeting of the Amazon Cooperation Council was held on 29 November 2010 in the city of Lima, Peru, called by the Permanent Secretariat of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty Organization (PS/ACTO) in order to analyze the conduction of the Organization, the enforcement of the provisions of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty (ACT) and the preparation of the 10th Meeting of Ministers of Foreign Affairs to be held in Lima on 30 November 2010.
